VILLA ARMY JOINS BATTLE WITH OZUNA

Chief Leads Bandits Against Chihuahua Garrison, Which Numbers Over 2000 Soldiers; Reinforcements Are Rushed

Fighting Is Forced by Outlaws, Who Are in Control of All the South and West of Province; Machine Guns Are in Action

JUAREZ, Oct. 20.—A battle is now raging twenty-five miles outside Chihuahua City between Villa's bandits and a heavy force of Mexican de facto troops, according to reports wired to Carranza military headquarters here shortly after noon today.

Nearly four thousand men are engaged in the fighting, according to these reports. The Villistas are led by Villa in person.

With more than 2000 men and twelve machine guns, General Carranza, Carranzista commander, marched out from Chihuahua City to attack Villa after the bandit raid upon San Andres Tuesday.

United States Government department agents on the American side received reports confirming the engagement between de facto troops and Villistas. The military men fact that reinforcements are being sent from Chihuahua City indicates that Villa's forces are driving the Carranzistas back.

RAID NETS GAIN.
EL PASO, Oct. 20.—The entire western and southern portions of the Mexican state of Chihuahua are now under control of Pancho Villa, according to admissions made by Mexican de facto officials at Juarez, as details of the bandit chief's bold raid last Tuesday on the town of San Andres began to reach the border today.

Falkenhayn Is Shot in Action

Former Head of Staff Seriously Wounded

ROME, Oct. 20.—Field Marshal Falkenhayn, former chief of the general staff of the German army, has been wounded in the leg and compelled to relinquish command of the Austro-German armies in Transylvania, said a Zurich despatch to the Couriers d'Italia today.

General Erich Von Falkenhayn was formerly military instructor to the Chinese government, then governor of Kiao Chau and the military tutor of the German Crown Prince before the outbreak of the war. On October 27, 1914, he was named chief of the general staff, succeeding Von Moltke. On August 23, 1916, he was displaced by Hindenburg as chief of staff and three days later took command of the Transylvanian operations against the Rumanians. He is 63 years old.

Unconfirmed reports that he has been wounded follow but a few hours the announcement at Berlin of the retirement of General von Kluck, famous in the early days of the war, because of shrapnel wounds he suffered more than a year ago.

Travelers Report China Near Revolt

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—That a fourth revolution is facing China was the word brought here today by passengers arriving on the liner Persia Maru.

They declared the recent resignation of Tang Shao-Yi as foreign minister and his renunciation of General Chang Hsun and Leng Kuo-Cheng, the military leader, has led to a hot political fight various provinces which is said to border on a revolution.

The town of San Andres is only twenty-five miles west of Chihuahua City on the Mexican Northwestern railway line. Despite protestations of vigorous pursuit of the Villistas, refugees at Juarez declare that Carranzista troops are making no effort to chase the bandits and are avoiding contact with them.

Thousands of Carranzista troops brought from Southern Mexico are being held in Chihuahua City to reinforce the de facto garrison there, as military authorities expect another attack soon upon the city by Villa.

WOUNDED BY BANDIT.
Tomas Mendez, a mining man employed by one of the companies in the Cuernavaca district, reached here today to receive medical treatment for wounds inflicted by Villa bandits.

Mendez said he was in Cuernavaca when Villa and Salazar entered there with 800 men on September 26. He was called from his home and taken before Villa himself for examination. After being told that he could go, Villa warned him that if he ever worked for any American company he would be executed.

After returning to his home after the interview with Villa and retiring, Mendez says he was awakened by the screams of his wife and discovered that Martin Lopez, a brother of Pablo Lopez, and a band of Villa's men were looting his home. He started to run when a bandit shot him, he said, the bullet striking him in the left leg.

Trenches on Trunk Road Recaptured in Spirited Attack; Haig's Army Fails in Determined Efforts to Advance

Much Exploited Juggernauts "Fall Down" Under Fire of Heavy Guns; Franco-English Block Reinforcements

BERLIN (by wireless to Sayville), Oct. 20.—The greater part of the trenches on the road between Aumontcourt and LeBarque, which were captured by the British on October 18, were retaken yesterday by German troops in an attack, according to the official statement issued today at the army headquarters.

Attempts made by British detachments to advance last night north of Courcellette and east of LeSars, the statement adds, failed.

In the last great attack against the German positions on the Somme region the British used several tanks and three of them were destroyed by the German artillery fire, the statement declares.

The German statement regarding the Somme front says:

During the rainy weather the mutual artillery duel on both sides of the Somme continued lively.

The largest part of the trenches west of the road between Aumontcourt and LeBarque, taken by the English on October 18, was captured by an attack. In the evening hours advances of English detachments north of Courcellette and east of LeSars failed.

During the last great attack, it is only now reported, the British used some of their much-heralded armored automobiles. Three of the so-called "tanks" are lying before our lines, destroyed by our artillery fire.

There was a mutual artillery duel on both sides of the Somme during a rainy day yesterday. The advances of English detachments north of Courcellette and east of LeSars failed.

On the front of Prince Leopold of Bavaria several Russian counter-attacks before the positions were gained north of Svinivka, on the Stochod, broke down with heavy losses. Southwest of Svinivka, on the west bank of the Narvuka, German battalions stormed an important Russian position holding the position with its adjoining lines and repulsing counter-attacks. The enemy left fourteen officers, 2050 men and eleven machine guns in our hands.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Germans heavily bombarded Staff and Schwabell double north of Trepel last night, General Haig reported this afternoon. British troops carried out two small raids on enemy trenches near Loos.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Artillery was most active on the Somme front last night, particularly in the region of Sully and Belloy, but there were no infantry attacks, it was officially announced today.

In LeFrabais a German surprise party was checked near Besanges.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ADVANCING ON RAPAUME. Oct. 20.—Since Wednesday night the Germans have been making terrific counter-attacks against the village of Sully-Salviel, conquered by the French in a brief, violent battle a few hours before.

The very fury of the German counter-attacks is evidence of the importance they attribute to this position. By their victory at Sully-Salviel the French removed one of the strongest German positions defending the southeast approach to Bapaume, which German prisoners had repeatedly boasted was untakable. At the same time they increased the allied breach in the German lines to a maximum depth of more than eleven miles and extended the French possession of the Peronne-Bapaume road to four and one-half miles.

KEEP TEUTONS BUSY.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Germans on the Somme front are prevented from sending men to aid in the Austro-German attack against Rumania, according to Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations of the war office, who today discussed with the American correspondents the objectives of the Anglo-French offensive. He said:

This provides a temporary feature of the entente's objective in the west, as the German commanders feel that while the situation in Rumania cannot be considered a crisis it is serious and that the best assistance the western allies can give is to prevent, as they have done thus far, the despatch of any reinforcements to General Von Falkenhayn.

General Maurice declared that Bapaume and Peronne cannot be considered objectives in the usual sense of that term. The capture of these cities, he said, may be expected as a result of the present offensive, but their fall could not be considered a decisive failure of the operation. It is planned to drive such a wedge into the German lines that attacks can be made in three directions against the expanded hostile battle front.

Ultimately it is hoped to carry these advances so far that a breaking point will result. The Germans, said General Maurice, may shorten their line before this happens, but such an outcome is always kept in view by the entente's staffs in planning future advances.

Pinchot Makes Appeal for Hughes Election

WARREN, Minn., Oct. 20.—Gifford Pinchot, former United States chief forester, speaking before the only Minnesota audience which he will address, attacked the present administration as that of a sectionalist, with vacillating policies and one which cannot be trusted during the crucial four years to come.

Pinchot made a strong plea for the support of Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for president by Progressives in the state.

"I am here as a Progressive to urge the election of Charles E. Hughes," said Pinchot, "because I believe that the safety, honor and welfare of the party will be promoted by his election, and that Progressive policies, for which I stand as strongly now as ever in my life, will fare infinitely better under Charles E. Hughes than under his opponent."

Pinchot will leave here tomorrow for Fargo, N. D., where he will speak in the evening.

HINDENBURG TAKES SUBMARINE STAND

Ruthless Prosecution of U-Boat Warfare Is Opposed by Marshall.

AMSTERDAM, via London, Oct. 20, 4:09 a. m.—According to the Berlin newspaper Germania, Field Marshal von Hindenburg has at last come out emphatically against Germany's submarine campaign.

Germania says that at last Saturday's sitting of the "Independent Committee for German Peace Terms," Field Marshal von Hindenburg appeared before the committee, saying that he came in an official capacity as the envoy of Field Marshal von Hindenburg. He added that the field marshal requested the committee to abandon all agitation for a more ruthless prosecution of the submarine campaign.

UNITY PRIME DEMAND.

BERLIN, Oct. 19, 1 p. m.—via London, Oct. 20, 7:03 a. m.—General von Ludendorff has joined his chief, Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in opposing a more ruthless prosecution of submarine warfare.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg's position was made plain at a meeting of the independent committee for German peace terms last Saturday when, through a personal representative, he requested the committee to abstain from agitation for a sharper submarine campaign.

General von Ludendorff has announced his views through a letter which was read at a public meeting at Magdeburg yesterday by National Liberal Leader Schiller. The letter said in part:

The hopes of our enemies, based on extraordinary simultaneous exertions on all fronts, can only be frustrated through mighty efforts on our part. We will accomplish this by the continued German people stand united behind us, give us their confidence and do not demoralize the army by controversies over the expediency of means and ways to success. If to the outsider it seems that the program on certain questions is lacking unity this does not prove that the program is actually at fault.

PAPERS BLAME ALLIES.

"That the entente is fearful of the effect of German submarine operations is regarded by the German press as clearly proved by the continuous agitation on the part of the entente press in an effort to induce the taking of measures by the United States against German submarine warfare near American waters," says an Overseas News Agency announcement today. The report adds:

It is pointed out by the German newspapers that the submarine campaign on cruiser warfare and operated more than forty miles from the coast of the United States, while British cruisers closely approached the coast at the three-mile distance in seeking to destroy without warning a German commercial submarine that was departing.

The question asked by the press is: "Is it the Germans or the British who make war before the gates of the United States?"

WITHDRAWAL OF CRUISERS NOT DENIED

Plan to Strip Pacific Coast of Naval Protection Through Sending Squadron to Police Atlantic Is Still in the Air

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Oct. 20.—Neither confirmation or denial of a report that all armored cruisers would be withdrawn from the Pacific waters with one exception could be obtained in naval circles here today. Without the armored cruiser squadron the California, Oregon and Washington coasts would be protected by several small protected cruisers, the old battleship Oregon, a destroyer flotilla and four submarines.

The report stated that the six large vessels of the Pacific fleet would be stationed in the shipping lanes of the Atlantic until battle cruisers now building are completed.

High Cost Wins Return to Home

State Hospital Cannot Feed Inmates

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Oct. 20.—Because of the high cost of living, many of the 400 inmates of the state hospital for the insane here, who are not considered "dangerous to society" are to be returned immediately to the care of friends or relatives or to the counties from which they came.

This announcement was made here today by the institution's trustees, who said that the cost of feeding the inmates had increased 75 per cent and that this annual allowance was insufficient.

THE WHOLE BODY NEEDS PURE BLOOD

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood.

If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased; the muscles become enfeebled; the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness and becomes pimply, blotchy and other eruptions appear.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood. It is positively unequalled in the treatment of scrofula and other humors, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling. Be sure to get Hood's and get it today. All druggists. Advertisement.

CHARGE DIRECTORS WITH SWINDLE

Stockholders in Talcott Land Company to Recover $318,094.60.

Charging that three former directors of the Talcott Land Company manipulated the finances of the concern to the extent that they have been defrauded out of $318,094.60 in money and property, thirty stockholders have joined issue in a suit in the Superior Court for recovery of deeds and cancellation of loans through which transactions it is alleged they were defrauded.

The defendants in the suit are William Hirschler, Julia M. Hirschler and P. A. Geor. An attachment has been levied on $22,500 worth of real estate in the annexed district pending the outcome of the case.

It is alleged in the complaint that last January the directors adopted a resolution to transfer the holdings of the company to W. M. Martin in return for his promissory note of $237,623, due in six months, and that after Martin received the property he returned it by gift deed to the three directors, thus enabling them to "unlawfully" divide it among themselves. Martin, the complaint states, was a dummy in the transaction, a person of no financial means or responsibility whatsoever.

It is further alleged that a sale of property not included in the deed to Martin was made to P. B. Cross who paid $162,220 in cash together with a promissory note and mortgages.

The plaintiffs ask for return of the property to the company or its equivalent in money together with interest from January 6.

Insane Man Fights Police Officers

It was only after J. A. Stapleton, a shipwright, 1530 Twenty-first street, had attacked two police officers at the Central Police Station last night that it was learned that he was insane. He is now in the detention ward of the emergency hospital, where he will be taken before a lunacy commission.

Police Corporal A. B. Smith looked up from the police blotter last evening to find Stapleton at his side, with his fist spread. Smith did not resist, but sent Stapleton sprawling to the floor and ordered Patrolman Charles Nightingale to arrest him on a charge of drunkenness.

While Nightingale was taking Stapleton to the prison floor in the jail elevator the prisoner attacked him with a chair. Nightingale subdued him after a fight and handcuffed his wrists, whereupon it was discovered he was insane and he was removed to the hospital.

Mooney Will Be Given Continuance

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The trial of Thomas Mooney, one of the quintet of accused bomb plotters upon whose shoulders the district attorney has placed the responsibility for the preparedness bomb outrage, will not take place on October 30 before Judge Franklin Griffin as scheduled.

The illness of Attorney Maxwell McNutt who is recovering from an operation at a local hospital, was given as the reason for the asking of a continuance by Attorney John G. Lawlor, associate counsel. Lawlor consulted today with Assistant District Attorneys Cuneo and James, and James, informing them that McNutt would not have recovered sufficiently to be able to go on with the case on the day set. When the matter is brought up in court on October 30 a new trial date will be set.

Attorney Is Killed by Man He Opposed

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Oct. 20.—Walking up to G. Treadgold, a Bandon attorney, as he went for his car in a garage last evening, Joseph Cochran, also of Bandon, shot Treadgold through the heart, killing him instantly, walked a few feet away, turned and shot himself and sent a bullet into his left temple. Cochran is tonight lying unconscious, and there is no hope for his life.

Two years ago Treadgold procured the conviction of Joseph Cochran, who kept a saloon at Bandon, for selling liquor to Ruby and Lolita Simpson, two young girls.

Subsequently the Simpson girls stated on oath that they had been coerced by Treadgold into swearing they were given liquor by Cochran.

INDIANS FIRST OF SPIRITUALISTS?

Aged Medicine Man So Informs Convention at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 20.—Chief Rheamont, 60 years old, a medicine man, spiritualist and Carlisle graduate, whose home is at Lansing, Mich., declared before the national convention of spiritualists, in session here, that the Indians were spiritualists first and the white man came afterward.

The so-called Independents, who practice spiritualism for financial gain, were accused by Dr. C. A. Burgess of Chicago, president of the Illinois association, who said: "If our mediums and speakers are working for the almighty dollar, let them go where they please. I am opposed to state and national officers working for Independents opposed to the national organization."

Wins Back Place On Officer's Roll

Bravery Restores Rank of Courtmartialled Man

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 20.—"Conspicuous gallantry" has won back for Lieutenant A. B. Jones of the Canadian forces the commission he lost when he was courtmartialled for intemperance, according to a despatch from Canadian headquarters in France, received today by Minister of Militia Hughes.

The despatch says: "Deprived by courtmartial of his commission because of an act of intemperance while on duty, Lieutenant Jones immediately enlisted as a private in a Montreal battalion."

"He became a corporal, then won his sergeant's stripes. He was awarded a D. C. M. for his reckless courage and again a bar for his medal."

"On September 15 he was in the thick of the fighting. Later he was severely wounded that it is improbable he will be again able to serve as a soldier."

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Cretonne curtains and draperies, individual washrooms and even lavender or pink cars to suit lady's taste, are ideas Miss Katherine S. Day of New York let loose in the meeting of stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad here today.

All that's Good for You in Oats

It is the fusel oil in most rolled oats that give them the strong and rancid taste. Sperry Pure Rolled Oats contain no fusel oil because that objectionable constituent is absolutely removed in dry kiln roasting. The Sperry Flour Company operates the only dry kiln in California.

The purity of Sperry Rolled Oats is demonstrated by the fact that it makes a perfect food for infants and convalescents. To get the superior rolled oats buy Sperry's in the air-proof "red" package.

Try This Sperry Recipe

It's Fine

Sperry Rolled Oat Cookies
1/2 cup butter..... 2 cups (scant) Sperry
2 eggs well beaten..... 1 cup Rolled Oats
1 cup sugar..... 1 cup chopped raisins.
1/2 cup chopped nuts..... 1 teaspoon cinnamon.
1/2 teaspoon soda..... 2 cups Sperry Flour.
Pinch of salt.

Cream butter and sugar and add eggs, cinnamon, salt and soda. Mix well and add raisins and nuts. Mix well again, then add the flour and beat the mixture until all is well mixed drop from a spoon in small quantities about the size of a walnut, on well buttered paper about 2 inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven. Will remain fresh for weeks.

SEEK PLACES FOR JOBLESS SOLDIERS

Eighteen Here, Twenty in Alameda, Eight in Berkeley, Without Support.

With eighteen members of the National Guard in Oakland without employment as the result of their enforced absence on the Mexican border, twenty men of G Company in Alameda and eight men of C Company in Berkeley, in the same predicament, the Chamber of Commerce of the three cities are taking the matter up with the business men of the communities to see that the injustice is remedied at once. Some of the men were assured when they departed that their positions would be open for them when they returned, but they have discovered that the promises were not kept.

That the situation will soon be ameliorated is the belief of those who are working to see that the guardsmen are given an opportunity to resume civil employment. To aid in this reinstatement, the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce is advertising the names and occupations of the eight men in that city who desire work. They are:

W. Simonsen, civil engineer; H. Barber, railroad office man and clerk; P. W. Griffin, clerical worker; George Robinson, electrician and mechanic; A. T. Harrison, clerk and office man; N. D. Martin, electrician and automobile mechanic; Fred Peterson and George Hoffman, general utility men.

Captain Magagnos of G Company states that the Union Iron Works and the Dow Pump Works promised the first openings in their shops to the unemployed guardsmen. Twenty men of the company have already been placed in jobs since the return, and he believes that the others will soon be provided for.

Ocean Voyage Is Simple for Babe

Regular Syndicate Aids
Infants Across

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—It's as easy to ship a baby across the Pacific now as it is to send a package via parcel post.

A syndicate of professional "baby carriers" has been organized by Masumi Yoshimi of San Francisco and Seattle, and it is comprised of stewards, cabin boys and others on Oriental liners who engage in the business of transporting Japanese children to and from the Orient.

Hundreds of American-born boys and girls under twelve are annually handled by the baby carriers on the Osaka Shosen Kaisha and other ships plying between Japan, Seattle and San Francisco. Parents who for some reason were unable to take their children with them when they crossed the Pacific pay the child's fare and an additional $15 for the "baby carrier syndicate." The "carriers" care for the children on the voyage, and are fed and carried free by the steamship companies, in return for the transportation they encourage.

NARROW ESCAPE.

RENO, Oct. 20.—Al Heer, son of Attorney A. A. Heer, and Norman Brown, son of E. D. Brown, superintendent of the Reno Power & Light & Water Company, had a narrow escape from death when a 23,000-volt circuit broke through an insulator at the company's sub-station and went through a wire with which the boys were conducting experiments with a wireless outfit.

Fortunately the boys had dropped the wire to discuss some phase of their work, but as it was, they were thrown to the ground and stunned.

NEED OF SOLDIERS HALTS FURLONGS

Secretary Baker Stops Applications Because of the Nation's Need.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Need of all available soldiers in the regular army for active service caused Secretary Baker to stop all applications for furloughs to the reserve, which, under the national defense act, may be requested by men who have served one year with the colors. The official order reads:

"And under the present unusual conditions, which have caused the concentration of so large a part of the army and the mobilization of most of the regular army reserve, the secretary does not believe approval of furloughs to the regular army reserve is justified. Applications, therefore, will not be forwarded until further instructions."

It has been held by army law experts that the furlough of enlisted men to the reserves rests upon the discretion of the secretary and is a privilege which, under normal conditions, shall be readily granted to soldiers of exemplary character and who have acquired such proficiency in the service as to render them thoroughly dependable for service in case of war.

Fillings in Teeth
Swallowed by Man

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 20.—When Melton Belcher, banker, threw out an early auto in a smashup, he fell so hard that he knocked all the fillings out of his teeth and swallowed them.

Blue Bird Bureau

Alfred lifted first one foot and then the other, displaying the soles. The stockings could be seen showing through large holes worn in the leather.

"I want a pair of shoes," the boy said. "I gotta go to school Monday, and it might rain."

The boy is 7 years old, and is the first born of four. His mother waited downstairs while he came up to the Blue Bird bureau to tell his needs.

Alfred, who is carrying the youngest member of the family in her arms.

There were no shoes for a boy of 7. Alfred said he would come back in the hope that a Blue Bird friend might come in with a pair in the meanwhile.

JELLY NEXT NEED.

Miss Beatrice McCall, secretary of the women's protective league, received the aid asked in The TRIBUNE for the girl who is soon to be a mother. She will be cared for in a local hospital, and clothes have been provided for the little one.

Miss McCall is in great need of some jelly for one of the women under her care who is ill. Also preserves. The Blue Bird will see that she gets the jellies if someone will notify the bureau where to send. If some Blue Bird friend is able to bring them to the office, it will save sending for them. It would be better still to take them direct to Miss McCall's office in the city hall.

LITTLE GIRL, TOO.

A little girl of 11 is in equal need of a pair of shoes. She cannot go to school unless she has them. She gives her size as 12 1/2.

If it is necessary, the shoes can be sent for. But the Blue Bird is limited to the services of friends for the delivery of packages, and sometimes this means waiting a long time.

The parcel post has been made for just this purpose, it would almost seem. Blue Bird hopes that some little girl who has several pairs of shoes is tired of one pair and will wrap them neatly and send them to the bureau through the parcel post so that the girl who is waiting for them may go to school Monday.

"HATE TO DO NOTHING."

Every morning Williams comes to the Blue Bird bureau bright and early to learn if anyone has a strong man, a little on in years, to come to the house and do some gardening or other outside work at about 25 cents a day.

Members of the Cooks, Waiters' and Waitresses' Union will entertain on November 3 at a ball to be given in the Majestic Hall, to raise funds for the aid of the culinary workers out on a walkout in San Francisco. Preparations for the benefit theater party to be given by the Central Labor Council, to raise funds to aid in the work of the Workers' Defense League across the bay are well under way. The party, which is to be held on the evening of November 10, will feature a number of special events, in addition to the regular program at the Pantheon. E. W. Perry Burlingame, president of the Building Trades Council, is in conference with leaders of the Central Labor Council planning co-operative work in a number of issues in which both councils are interested. This joint work will embrace a number of matters.

The Union Label League will entertain tonight at a party in the Elks Club. The first active campaign to be started by the league will be to have the union label on all laundry goods. Several other label issues will later be taken up.

H. Mohr and L. Lubelski, representing the Union Label League, have visited almost all of the unions in Oakland, speaking in behalf of the indeterminate franchise amendment. This plan has already been endorsed by the Central Labor Council. Brock is head of the Laundry Workers of the United States and Canada.

Do You Suffer From Diabetes?

Diabetes is invariably the result of impaired nutrition—this results in an excess of sugar in the blood and failure of the food to nourish, hence a gradual wasting away while eating well.

Symptoms of the disease are, increased thirst, excess of urine, emaciation, dry skin, often with sweetish odor.

Notwithstanding the fact that medical science admits of no definite cure for Diabetes, Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy has been used with gratifying results and is worthy of your attention. Following are a few words of interest from a grateful user:

"I had been troubled with Diabetes for 8 years. I heard about Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy and I tried some of it and got myself in good condition and went to work again. One man said he doctor'd for two years and that one bottle of Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy did him more good than all the doctors. I am much pleased and so thankful for your life saving remedy that I cheerfully recommend it to anyone troubled with Diabetes and I hope this will be the cause of helping many sufferers." (Signed) James Platt, Natl. Military Home, Dayton, Ohio.

Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy is made from a formula tried and tested and used with remarkable results during the past forty years. As the name indicates, Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy is absolutely safe as it is made from herbs and other beneficial ingredients.

Sold by leading druggists everywhere. Free sample on request. Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy Co., 383, Rochester, N. Y.—Advertisement.

ANAEMIC PEOPLE

Need More Iron in the Blood

If you are anemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face, colorless lips, aching finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath; and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

Mr. W. H. Hodges, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "I suffered from the effects of bad blood, was run-down, dizzy, had headaches and did not feel like working. I had tried Beer and Wine without any help. After taking Vinol four days I noticed an improvement and its continued use built up my blood and my bad feelings disappeared like magic. The bad effects of poor, devalitized blood cannot be overestimated, and it is the best and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese hepatanates, and glycerophosphates contained in Vinol that enriches the blood, improves the circulation and in this natural manner builds up health and strength. Try it on your guarantee."

Chico Schools Bar Hazing of Students

CHICO, Oct. 20.—That hazing cannot be tolerated in any form by the public schools is the declaration of Principal Passmore of the Chico high school in announcing the settlement of the trouble caused by the attempted hazing of Stanley Krickac, a student.

The five ringleaders in the affair, who were dismissed from school until they could bring their parents to discuss the situation, returned with the latter yesterday and renounced hazing, at the same time promising they would indulge in it no more during their high school life.

BIG FRUIT SHIPMENT.

It is estimated by Manager Charles E. Virden of the California Fruit Distributors, that the shipment of California deciduous fruits for this season will total upward of 17,000 carloads. This would exceed last year's mark by about 300 carloads.

Patricide Confession Repudiated by Girl

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 20.—Lena Benaglio, the 13-year-old schoolgirl who was arrested yesterday on a charge of having murdered her father, Frank Benaglio, with a hatchet, today repudiated her alleged confession. According to the police, the girl said that a cousin, Joseph Tuteria, aged 30, killed her father, aided by her mother, and that she had been told to confess to the crime. No trace of Tuteria has been found.

PERIL OF SIMPLE DISEASES SHOWN

Doctors Say More Children Die From Whooping Cough Than Paralysis.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 20.—A warning against whooping cough as a cause of infant sickness and death was given by Dr. I. A. Abt of Chicago, at the annual meeting of the American Association for Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality yesterday.

"The mortality from whooping cough is considerable," he said, "but in 1911, 6251 patients died of the disease in the United States. The disease most frequently occurs towards the end of winter and early spring and the epidemics are more severe some years than others. When it occurs in epidemic form it is confined to a small area, it may occur over a wide territory, or in a single season it may encircle the world. The disease is particularly one of childhood, and children of the second year are most predisposed, but it may occur in very old people, and persons sometimes are affected when it becomes epidemic among the children."

"Whooping cough is caused by human carriers. The spray emitted by coughing carries the virus which produces the disease. During the catarrhal stage, which resembles a severe cold, the patient has fever, and the true nature of the ailment is frequently unrecognized even by the most skillful physicians, but it is more contagious at this time than at any other."

"The complications arising from whooping cough may not only lead to death, but also to lifelong troubles, tuberculosis, paralysis and idiocy. Prevention of whooping cough consists of isolating and quarantining, wherever possible."

Dr. J. G. Wilson of the United States Public Health Service, stationed at Ellis Island Immigration Station, N. Y., pointed out that existing social and housing conditions practically prevent the complete stamping out of a disease which is theoretically entirely preventable.

"The question for sanitarians and physicians then resolves itself," he said, "into the best means of dealing with conditions as they actually exist. Experience has shown that daily inspection and prompt isolation of every child with any degree of fever is entirely successful in prevention of epidemic outbreaks in modern up-to-date institutions."

Dr. Borden S. Veeder of St. Louis directed attention to the fact that although measles and whooping cough are such everyday events that they are regarded of little importance, between 9000 and 10,000 children annually in the United States from each of these diseases. Continuing, he said:

"Thus each of these diseases causes more deaths than scarlet fever, and a great many more than infantile paralysis. Over half of the deaths from whooping cough are in children under one year of age—and 90 per cent in children under 10. Measles likewise has its highest mortality among infants. The widespread idea that it is a good thing for a child to have these diseases early and 'get them over with' is erroneous. The younger the child the higher the fatality rate. In infancy some ten out of every hundred cases die, while the mortality rate in children over five years is about one in two hundred cases."

Widely Known Hotel Man Passes Away

George A. Dixon, formerly connected with the Hotel Metropole and one of the widely-known hotelmen of the state, is dead following an attack of pneumonia. Dixon was known in fraternal life of Oakland during his residence here, holding membership in the Elks and Greeters.

He was a past president of the Greeters, the hotelmen's own organization, and a member of the Indoor Yacht Club of San Francisco. For the past few years he has been identified in the hotel business across the bay, holding important positions on the Washington, Union Square and Argonaut hotel staffs.

Dixon's last position before death was that of assistant manager at the Argonaut, where he died following ten days' illness. Besides his fraternal and hotel affiliations, he was a politician of standing in the state. He was a member of the Republican county committee.

Surviving him are a widow, en route from New York, and a father, George A. Dixon Sr., a native of Canada, 32 years old, he had been a resident of California for the past fifteen years, much of that period being spent in the bay region. Funeral services are planned for Tuesday, the arrival of his widow being awaited.

San Francisco School Officials in Row

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—A thirty dollar bill for printing has reopened an old feud between Superintendent of Schools Alfred Roncovieri and the board of education and started a lively controversy between the pedagogical experts, the city attorney and Auditor Thomas F. Boyle. The superintendent recently had a number of circulars printed, which were sent out to eighth grade pupils and their parents, giving information concerning the various high schools and curricula. He made out a requisition on the auditor for $30 to cover the cost.

Auditor Boyle shied at the sight of the requisition and questioned its legality. The city attorney declared that all demands payable out of the common school fund must be approved by the board of education before they are paid. The members of the board say that Roncovieri must submit the claim to them first.

Roncovieri calls the judgment "a curbstone opinion and an idiotic interpretation of the charter and school laws." He points to the state law which provides that the superintendent of schools may have $20 a year for binding school books and $2 for postage and incidentals for each school district. On the basis of 60,000 pupils, he claims that there are 200 school districts in San Francisco and that he consequently has $4200 a year to spend without the approval of the board.

"Quick-Finger Jack" Captured by Police

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Jack Burns claims to be a regular prestidigitator, but he can't fool the police.

"Let me show you a little trick," he said to Chris McRae as the two stood at the bar in a Fifth street saloon last night. Chris turned to look, whereat Jack gently but firmly poked two large, soiled forefingers into Chris' eyes. Then just as firmly, but with less gentleness, Jack lifted Chris' purse from his trousers pocket while Chris squirmed in pain. But it takes more than a poke in the eye to put Chris out of commission. He grabbed Jack by the scruff of the neck and held on until a policeman arrived.

CHRONIC DYSENTERY.
"An old gentleman of this town who was almost at the point of death with chronic dysentery some time ago and had given up all hope of recovery was induced to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. One dose stopped the discharge, and after taking a few more doses he was completely cured." writes J. L. Baer, West Manchester, Pa. "Many residents of Baer's Station can testify to the truth of the above, and were aware of the old gentleman's condition. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Store."—Advertisement.

PLAN OF CAR FRANCHISE ENDORSED

Fitchburg Voters Hear Outline of Remedy As Proposed by Citizens' Committee and Suggested Solution of Woes

Dr. Carl Walliser Discusses the New Charter Amendments Designed to Afford Relief to Big Utility Franchise Tangles

Hearty and unanimous endorsement of the proposed, indeterminate, franchise amendment to the city charter was expressed last night by the Fitchburg Social and Improvement Club, the members placing themselves on record as thoroughly in favor of the modification of existing conditions. Dr. Carl Walliser, chairman of the executive committee of the Civic Association, addressed the club members on the subject. He said in part:

COMMITTEES AT WORK. Several years ago the franchise company got into financial difficulties. Several committees tried to solve its problems—improvements and extensions needed—and gave it up. In May of this year, representatives of the bondholders asked the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to investigate and in June a meeting was held in the Hotel Oakland, when the president of the company, stock and bondholders, and others interested, considered the problem. The matter was then referred by the chairman of the transportation committee, E. A. Forrester, to a special committee appointed to devise some remedy for the conditions existing. The committee found the situation to be one of grave concern to the people of this city. The company cannot meet bonds that are due—and in less than two years a big issue coming due will also have to be faced. The company has failed to provide for its sinking fund, being $70,000 behind there.

The company is under 134 separate franchises, and this is too many. Some expire in a few years, others may run as long as forty-seven years. Some of the short franchises have almost run out. These franchises were granted at various times, under varying conditions, and in many cases to different corporations. They conflict and overlap, some are so short that they cannot be security for loans, and as a result the entire franchise system under which the street car company is operating in the Oakland district is chaotic. Franchisees therefore will not put in money.

NEEDS ARE MANY. The company needs new work, and new services. Extensions are imperative. But it cannot get the money. The present condition of the franchise has ruined its credit, and a receivership threatens as a result. And this inability to get its work done means a great useless expense that further ties up the company's financial affairs.

Suppose the city took back the franchise, say on East Fourteenth street. It could not take back any other that had not expired. The street car company would continue to run the others. Of course, the two lines would not honor each other's transfers. That would mean, probably, two fares to get down town from here, or three to get to Tenet street. So we eliminated the idea of forfeiting the franchises. We do not want to see the road in the hands of a receiver. It would disrupt the entire life of the city.

Under the proposed amendment, all existing franchises will be waived, and in return for them, when they are then repealed, will be issued a blanket franchise, covering all the lines affected by the old franchises. Then, if any of the conditions are not complied with, the city can take all away at once.

The franchise will be under perfect control. A board of control passes on all improvements and expenditures. Yearly the city may take a partnership between the people and the car company. It is not that exactly; it simply means one company man, one man appointed by the people, and a third appointed by the other two, to pass upon all improvement work, especially new extensions. Thus extravagance is avoided.

Boynton Gets Wire From Water Users

Further discussion of Oakland's future water supply, together with arguments of protest against using the water from the irrigation district of Turlock, Modesto, Waterford and adjacent territory, will be heard tonight at a meeting held under the direction of the Citizens' Public Utility District committee in Judge Samuel's court room, city hall.

A large delegation of representative irrigation and agricultural men from Stanislaus and the South San Joaquin water districts will appear to protest against any action of local people to secure water at, as they term it, the expense of the outlying irrigation districts.

During the next week representatives from the districts affected met and drew up a written protest. This paper will be read tonight by C. H. Griffin, an attorney, representing the Turlock water district. A. Griffin, engineer, representing the South San Joaquin water district, will answer questions and give the construction side of the question.

Those who will appear tonight in support of the outside districts include: F. A. Cressy, Senator L. J. Muddock, C. A. Hilton, Allen Talbot, J. F. Kelly and J. B. Trask of the Modesto Irrigation district. The Turlock delegation will have John A. Chance, S. A. Huismann, Claus Johnson, John A. Orr, John A. Fisk and C. A. Griffin. Waterford is represented by J. L. Frouthy, J. M. Finley, A. L. Ketcham and Assemblyman L. L. Donnet. Attorney C. C. Boynton of the local committee has been advised by wire of the members of the valley delegation.

CHURCH IS INCLINED TO BE RADICAL

Committee of Episcopal Convention Reports in Favor of Complete Reconstruction of Social Organization in U. S.

Trade Unions Come in for Criticism and Syndicalism Is Strongly Condemned; Cessation of Immigration, Cause

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 20.—Need of an ultimate reconstruction of the entire social scheme in order properly to abolish poverty was urged by the joint commission on social service of the Protestant Episcopal church in a report to the triennial general convention of the church here today.

Housing conditions, recreation, vice and crime were set forth as factors that must be considered in any program of relief.

Signs are apparent, according to the report, that employers and capitalists are uniting more closely to resist further assaults by organized labor. It is apparent, however, the report added, that a policy of repression will no more put down industrial wars than a similar policy would control smallpox or other epidemics.

The report considered trade unionism in detail and said that strikes, lockouts and industrial disputes result from efforts of labor to make the best terms possible with the employers under the present capitalistic system, which, said the report, the trade unionists accept as the basis of industrial life.

In recent years, continued the report, the trade union movement has been discredited in the eyes of many by its apparently increasing tendency to violence. A common criticism of the union labor movement, it was stated, is that its leaders abuse their power and play petty politics.

SOCIALISM CONSIDERED. Among other subjects bearing on labor, the report considered the open against the closed shop; the alleged reactionary character of contemporary trade unions; the employer's viewpoint, and socialism and syndicalism in their bearing on labor.

In treating of welfare work, the report said that the workers in this country have not been slow to recognize the motive which is at the base of much welfare work, and have been prompt to repudiate charity intended as a substitute for strict justice.

LESS UNEMPLOYMENT. Unemployment receives special consideration in the report, which stated that the situation has been materially improved by reason of the temporary cessation of immigration and the supply of cheap labor on one hand and of the spending up of the native industrial process on the other to supply munitions of war to Europe. Despite this, the report said, the question of unemployment has received only a temporary answer.

Importance of co-operation of the church in social service was urged, the report insisting on the necessity of church inspiration in the movement to ameliorate sufferings of mankind. There would be great value, it was urged, in a system by which men and women would be trained for social service under parish and Sunday school auspices and by which instruction in social service would be given to theological students. Failure was predicted for any social service movement that proceeded without a foundation of faith in God.

Haig Tells of Fierce Fighting English General Gives Report

LONDON, Oct. 20.—General Sir Douglas Haig, the British commander in France, has sent a report on the operations which have been in progress since the end of September, when, he says, the British forces advanced well beyond the crest of the main ridge from Thiepval to Sully-Saluzelle.

From the line thus held, according to the report, the ground slopes gently to the shallow valley running northwest from near Sully-Saluzelle to about 2000 yards south of Bapaume, and then turns westward and joins the valley of the river Ancre at Mont. From the main Thiepval-Montval ridge a series of long well-marked spurs runs down to the valley described above. The most important of this series is a hammer-headed spur immediately west of Fiers, at the western extremity of which stands a tumulus, called Butte de Warlencourt.

Lying across the main trend of the ground another well marked spur runs from Montval north towards Thillois, passing a thousand yards east of Guedecourt. Behind this spur lies the German fourth position to get within assaulting distance of which, it was necessary to carry La Sars and these two spurs. These were held on the intermediate positions by the Germans, every advantage being taken of the sunken roads, buildings and undulating nature of the country.

On September 29, continues the report, "we carried Desmetmont Farm, 300 yards southwest of La Sars and just north of the Albert-Bapaume road. On the afternoon of October 1 we advanced our line on front of 800 yards, occupying the buildings of Eaucourt l'Abbaye, 1400 yards south-east of La Sars.

On the afternoon of the seventh, in conjunction with the French on our right, we attacked the wide front between the Albert-Bapaume road and Les Bouffes. We drove the enemy from La Sars and near-lying positions up to the east and west of the village after severe fighting. Between Guedecourt and Les Bouffes we forced our way forward from 600 to 1000 yards.

LAWYER FAINTS WHEN CLIENT'S BLOOD FLOWS AUBURN, Oct. 20.—Walter Thomas of Roseville, charged with murdering Jacob Novak and assaulting with intent to murder Mrs. Novak, submitted yesterday to the taking of a small quantity of his blood for testing in connection with the examination as to his sanity.

Attorney O. J. Lowell watched the proceedings for a time, and then suddenly topped over onto the floor of the sheriff's private office, where the operation was performed. Lowell's head struck on the corner of a cabinet and a bad gash was cut in his scalp.

KING'S AIDE KILLED BY FALLING LIVE WIRE NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Colonel J. Frangoulis, an aide de camp to the king of Greece, was instantly killed at Stapleton, Long Island, last night, when struck by a live wire suspended from a pole of a light and power company. Colonel Frangoulis was 50 years old.

AFRAID OF ZEPS? OH, NO, NO, NEVER!

But American Reporter and Fat Cable Operator Made Speed to Cellar.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—It took a man from Chicago to see the way to distinction in London. His distinction is doubtful but nevertheless, he the only man in London afraid of Zeppelin bombs or the only man who isn't a liar.

He never saw one in passive or active mood, and when he heard them recently his respect increased by several paragraphs in one instantaneous bound.

He has no desire to quarrel with good points of cordite and saprolin. He doesn't even want to argue with it. He doesn't want a darn thing to do with a Zeppelin bomb!

When Field Marshal Lord French issued a communique late at night saying: "Zeppelin Raids East Coast areas tonight and were engaged by our anti-aircraft guns and aeroplanes," the gent from Buena Park takes an intense interest in the location of subways.

If the communique adds, "several bombs were dropped without military damage; the raid is progressing," our hero begins to feel canaries scampers and darts about the room.

Lord French did issue one of those nonchalant statements a few nights ago. The distinguished party sat at his desk on the night trick, handling news. On the night of the 14th, West. He had never been through a Zeppelin raid. He wondered what they really were like, but of course, he wouldn't insist on a demonstration just for the sake of it. Oh, no; the Zeppelins needn't bother on his account.

The building is an old one with massive doors and long catacomb halls in the foot of the stairs, like the report of a gun.

The news ticker before him drolled off routine news. No hum! It was a dull night; if something would only happen to make a story for the cable. THE TICKER BUSY.

Even the ticker went silent. An hour passed. Gee, it was dull. The Chicagoan picked up that communique. "The raid is progressing," suddenly the ticker had a spasm of coughing; it sputtered and jiggled and the type-roller made a few tentative jabs at the tape, threatening to print something.

"The special constables of the London district have been ordered to report to their stations at once," said the ticker.

The constables got busy playing tag; scampering with icy little feet up and down a liberal length of vertebrae. Over near the black-mouthed fireplace the constable who operated in a che-ticker. Maybe he would like to know about it; not that anyone wanted comforting words from a veteran of many raids but just—maybe he would like to know.

"They'll probably come to London then," he said, sleepily. "They're hell in a che-ticker. Plain hell. I have been in a lot of raids and once a bomb dropped a block away from me."

"What's that so? What did it do to you?" casually. "Knocked me clean over. Those bombs are strong; iz-z-z-sna-u-xx."

He was asleep again. Somewhere way down the long hall a door slammed and the Zeppelin rook looked around. It was only a door slamming. Pretty soon the slammer re-entered the room and the door banged again.

Five minutes later a gun boomed. There was no door about that. Like the flowers of spring the Zeps were here.

THE "ZEPS" ARRIVE. Splitting a crack in the atmosphere the operator zipped down the hall and tumbled down the stairs three at a bound. The man afraid of Zeps made the basement in fifteen minutes. That's what the fire is but found the cable operator there before him.

"I'm not afraid of those things but it's best to be down stairs when they're around."

Boom-boo-oom! Boom-boo-oom! The party was getting very rough. A young fellow came through the basement corridor. He was so cold in the night air that his teeth chattered like castanets. He wasn't afraid either.

The Zeppelins seemed to be keeping away from the main stem of London so the trio went into the street. Out north the stars were after and everywhere stars were bursting a deafening boom. A Zeppelin was framed in the crosshairs of light-shafts of half a dozen stations.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely.
To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES MINT DIRECTOR IN STATED BY TAFT SURVEY OF NATION

Vice-President Marshall Gives Opposite View of Questions.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20.—Former President William H. Taft and Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall discussed the issues of the presidential campaign here tonight at auditoriums only a few blocks apart.

Referring to the passage of the eight-hour law, Taft declared that "the government's surrender to force was the greatest national humiliation" to which the people of this country have ever been subjected. He said also that "the delay of the administration in bringing the issue with Germany" (over the sinking of the Lusitania) to a head has exposed this country to the charge of weakness and vacillation, and "subjected the nation to additional humiliation in the sinking of other ships and the drowning of other Americans."

Taft said that the administration's course "in activity intervening to oust Huerta throws upon us the responsibility for the anarchy that has ensued," and brought about "a strong possibility that we may have to intervene in Mexico and tranquillize the country in the interest of civilization."

Marshall said the greatest glory of the Wilson administration was that "it has made in America an atmosphere wherein men may breathe the pure air of equity and fair dealing." The enactment of the eight-hour law, he said, was a "newly putting the opinion of the people into a statute, "which is the business of legislature."

The vice-president defended the administration's attitude toward the European belligerents and its Mexican policy.

Engleken Declares the Present Economic Problem Is Unusual.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Director Engleken of the Mint said today that one of the causes of the recent advances in the cost of living was the great influx of gold coming to the United States and now being coined into American money. The unprecedented export trade, which had widened the field for employment and created an abnormal demand for goods, he considers an important factor.

"There is such a vast demand for goods," said the director, "that prices rise responsively. More workers than heretofore are employed, and they are getting larger wages, although wages have not kept pace with prices.
The United States normally is a borrowing nation."

"The suddenness of this condition and retention of interest payments at home, coupled with a reversal of the usual trade conditions, presents an extraordinary economic problem."

Defendant Falls As Jury Says Guilty

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The word
"guilty" from a jury foreman so overcame Mrs. Stubbs, 60, in the United States district court yesterday that he fell fainting to the floor.
He had been tried for conspiracy to use the mails to defraud. Mrs.
Mary Abercrombie of Pomona was the plaintiff. Sentence will be pronounced later.

Confessions of Roxane

FRANCES E. WALTER

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Throughout the day following my conversation with Arthur, I was very excited, but I kept myself well in hand. I realized that I was beginning a new life, and I did not wish to rush headlong into something which would cause me to regret at the end of the day. I kept my brain clear, and my head was high with the stern resolve to provide my own future for myself, independent of my husband.

I gave little thought to Arthur, and what little there was mingled with something closely akin to contempt. I could not understand how he could permit himself to be detached from all that was joyful and enjoyable and deliberately bury himself in the hideous details of business. I was not a devotee of his commercial affairs. Possibly I should have gone on thinking him the same as I had, but at once he changed his mind, and his wife was having its secondary and more turbulent effect upon me. From a frame of mind which made me willing to seek happiness with others, I was now under the influence of a state which caused me to regard my old life with him as distasteful and no longer endurable.

I suppose this is true of every woman who is situated as I was, but even if it is not I am going to go on the one step to the other. I remember wondering what would be the next step with which I would be faced. I imagined how I would regard Arthur if our alienation continued to progress as rapidly during the next few days as it had during the past few hours. I could only conclude that I should detest him as heartily as ever woman detested man.

As I looked back upon the events of those few hours, it seemed to me that I had lived months; that I had bidden forever to my dreams of married happiness long ago; that it had been ages since I determined to cast loose and seek the joys which were denied me
by a thoughtless man.

But I was soon made keenly aware of the fact that my decision had been a recoiled one. This occurred when I changed my clothes and what I should wear to the theater that evening. It was the first time the matter had occurred to me, and when it did I was thrown into quite a flutter.

It was a long time since I had been out in the evening, and my wardrobe was in a terrible shape. Bad things had happened to it. I had been told that I should go to the store and have my clothes made over. I had been told
that I should go to the store and have my clothes made over. I had been told
that I should go to the store and have my clothes made over.

"You know, I cannot keep him away from me when I shop," declared Marian in a loud, clear voice. "He insists on coming with me, saying that he must see that I am not too extravagant. As a matter of fact, he never lets me buy what I want, and always insists upon my taking something twice as expensive as I need.
It is because he is getting lonely."

"It is because he loves to be with you,"
I said.

"That is one reason, but back of it is another. I think he goes with me because he likes you so much."
"What remark needs elucidation?"
"Well, it's this way. He has never cared anything for women or girls until he met you, and since then he has changed altogether. When he is with me, he is always thinking of you, and I believe he goes with me merely because he feels like it brings him nearer to you. At least, he finds some sort of comfort in being with another woman when he cannot be with you. Do I make clear?"

ARIZONA IS INVADED BY G.O.P. WOMEN

Hughes Special Train Rolls Into Phoenix Four Hours Behind Time, But Full of Enthusiastic Workers for Cause

Democrats, T. R. and Benson Make Southern State Hub of Politics of Nation; Women of Democracy in Heckling Feats PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 20.—To Arizona today Phoenix is the "political hub of the universe." A seething, churning battleground sort of hub that threatens to break all turmoil records established by a special trainload of learned women who are stamping the nation for Hughes.

With the stage all set for a virile battle between Colonel Roosevelt, Republican, and Allan Benson, Socialist, who expound their party doctrines here at the same hour tomorrow, the Hughes special pulled in from Los Angeles four hours late—and a magnificent breakfast which had been elaborately spread on schedule time, was waiting—gold. Some station committee matrons on the entertainment committee nearly wept, so disappointing was the entry of the women aboard the special train.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM.

A clamorous welcome at the Southern Pacific station, however, and a bubbling over of enthusiasm soon mended things and dates for morning appearances of the Hughesettes were set. Unlike other political elite, Democrats, then suddenly not waiting at the depot en masse—the Wilson women were waiting further down the street, where a "disgraced protest" was to have been staged. When the protest had hardly begun when the Republican women ran up a huge yellow banner across a street in the shopping district, blazoning forth in big letters "Vote Against Wilson." Then suddenly the streamer was cut down and it fell into the street. Members of the Women's Wilson League were accused, but they denied.

"That banner cost $56," exclaimed a fair Republican committee member as a new one was run up. "You bet it's going to stay put."

Twenty minutes later the Wilson women counter-attacked, putting a huge banner directly over the first, reading "Vote for Wilson."

Fresh outbursts of heckling and counter-heckling were anticipated at headquarters both organizations. While Miss Mary Antin and other leaders of the Hughes party motored to Glendale, a Temple, suburbs, Wilson women loosed a small army of sandwich boys, bearing legends calling attention to the alleged fact that "Voteless women in silk stockings have come to tell voting women of Arizona what to do."

WILSON "IMPRATICABLE." LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—President Wilson was criticized as "impracticable" in his dealings with labor by Mrs. Raymond Robins, one of the speakers from the Hughes women's campaign special train, who, with three others, remained here for a series of meetings while the main party went to San Diego, Cal., and Phoenix, Ariz.

Speaking before the Friday Morning Club, Mrs. Robins, relating her experience with the president, when, as a labor organization executive and sociological worker, she brought to his attention the plight of 50,000 persons she said were unemployed in Chicago in January, 1915. Two census workers were sent by the president to investigate the facts. After they reported, three weeks later, she said, an agent of the Department of Agriculture continued the investigation and finally in March the president informed Mrs. Robins there was nothing Congress could do at the time, but he suggested there might be relief when farmers began harvesting.

"He has always been very impracticable regarding labor problems," Mrs. Robins said, "and the working classes look askance upon any measure which the president fosters. They would rather trust a man who has shown strength of character in his dealings with these questions than they would a man who has shown himself to be amenable to coercion."

FLUSH KIDNEYS WITH SALTS IF BACK IS ACHING

Noted Authority Says We Eat Too Much Meat, Which Clogs Kidneys.

Take Glass of Salts When Kidneys Hurt or Bladder Bothers You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat, forms acids, which clog the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Eads Salt from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which every one should take now and then to keep the kidneys clear and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

Wilson and Bryan Join Hands Again

Democratic Chiefs Meet at Pittsburg

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—President Wilson and W. J. Bryan, former Secretary of State, met here today for the first time for months. The President stopped in Pittsburg for an hour and a half on the way from Chicago to Long Branch, N. J., and Bryan came here on the way to speak at Johnstown. As soon as the President arrived at the station the former Secretary of State entered Mr. Wilson's private car and the two men shook hands. The crowd outside the station witnessed the greeting. The men spoke together only for a moment or two and then left the car.

The appearance of Mr. Bryan caused a five-minute delay in an automobile tour of Pittsburg, arranged for the President. Automobiles for the President's party were waiting outside the station and President and Mrs. Wilson immediately entered one of them. Bryan and Secretary Tumulty rode in another.

A soldier cannot spend his time talking with the general," said Bryan; "but this is a fortunate opportunity."

Pennsylvania, the thirteenth state Bryan has spoken in during the campaign. Before election day he will have talked in half as many more.

Now, he said, "it's not like '95, he probably never was one like that—but there is a tremendous amount of enthusiasm. They are interested in the candidates and our candidate," he said, smiling, referring to the charge that another colonel has not been mentioning his candidate very freely.

HUGHES WILL HAVE FIVE DAYS' REST

Nominee to Save "Thunder" for Big Address Closing Campaign.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Very tired but entirely confident, Republican Nominee Hughes was en route to New York today for five days' rest before starting on the home stretch in his campaigning. The former justice slept late and was frazzled that he was to have a few days' rest.

Hughes will reach New York at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He plans at once to go to the Adlon hotel and will confer with Chairman Wilcox as to the progress of the campaign. On Saturday he will go to Montclair, N. J., to rest and on Sunday he will return to Utica. His program contemplated a series of speeches in New York state, beginning in Brooklyn on Wednesday night. From New York state he will swing westward into Ohio and Indiana again.

Hughes is determined to save his thunder from now on and will make only three speeches. His winning campaign will consist of mass meetings in large cities. So far as possible, attempt will be made by his managers to avoid the wear and tear of back-platform addresses in small cities.

It has been the demand on his endurance since August 5 that has worn the governor down.

Knox Makes Attack Upon Adamson Bill

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Philander C. Knox, who was secretary of state during the administration of President Taft, at a Republican mass meeting here tonight, attacked the Adamson eight-hour law for railroad employees and the child labor act. The Adamson law, he said, tends "to the perversion of the legislative power by its extension to matters which are left to individual action. He said: "The serious question is that: What effect does federal legislation have upon the child labor laws of the states? May both the state and national legislate on this subject? Or does the legislation of Congress, ipso facto, nullify the child labor laws of the various states?"

Other speakers at the meeting were Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt; Lieutenant-Governor Edward Schoonck of New York, and Oscar S. Straus, Progressive candidate for governor of New York in 1912.

Roosevelt Will Take War Secretary to Task

AMARILLO, Tex., Oct. 20.—(Aboard Route 1 train.) Colonel Roosevelt expects to have a few words to say to Secretary Baker next Monday at Albuquerque apropos the Carranza revolution with the American revolution. Roosevelt received a telegraphed copy of the Baker speech today and he immediately decided to include some "spleen comment on the Mexican situation in both his Phoenix and Albuquerque speeches.

The colonel spent all of today working on his speech and on his addresses at Denver and Chicago, which are the next objectives in his campaign for Hughes. At Denver he plans to discuss social justice and at Chicago he will take up in detail the economic issues which he believes are now important and especially those which he believes will appear after the war "let should have Republican doctors fix them up."

Sees Famine Ahead of Continued Export

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 20.—Allan J. Benson, Socialist presidential candidate, carried his campaign into Arizona today. After a vigorous tour of speechmaking in California the Socialist leader returned home to Yuma, where he will address a federal act is taken and an embargo on food exports clamped down, a famine will be the inevitable result.

"A halt must be called," he said, "or great disaster will speedily overtake this country."

Chicago Street Car Men to Aid Strikers

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Officials of the Chicago Surface and Elevated Railway Employees' Union will today send $15,000 to aid the New York street car men in response to instructions of the unions, which last night unanimously voted to endorse the strike.

TRIP TO CHICAGO PLEASES WILSON

President Returns Satisfied With Reception He Is Accorded.

CANTON, O., Oct. 20.—With echoes of the greatest demonstrations ever tendered him still ringing in his ears, President Wilson is returning home today. He and all of his lieutenants are happy as a result of the Chicago visit.

"The greatest yet," Secretary Tumulty said with unrestrained enthusiasm. There is no doubting now that the president has embarked upon a big effort to bring out as the one big issue of the campaign "a new nationalism," first forcibly set forth in his Omaha address and later amplified in his Indianapolis speeches. Yesterday the idea stood out in a further exposition of this theme. In the Press Club speech he emphasized the need of uniting the Progressive forces to accomplish the purpose of American business. In his second address he urged co-operation of capital and labor to serve the end he said which must be served by the United States, that of showing the world how to place the cause of labor on a par with that of the employer and the rights of humanity "above the rights of sovereignty."

IN HIS speech at the stock yards pavilion last night the president enlarged upon his theme and said that men who come to this country are expected "to put a new affection, a new allegiance, behind every other affection and allegiance, in a triumphant illustration of the spirit of America in the service of mankind."

Today the president is again greeting Ohio and Pennsylvania crowds. He will reach Shadow Lawn late tonight. Tomorrow he will celebrate "farmers' day" at the summer White House and deliver a strictly political speech from the veranda.

WOMEN ARE ATTACKED.

While men stood on the sidewalks and egged them on, women supporting President Wilson, attacked a hundred members of the National Woman's party, who were gathered around the Congress hotel here when the President arrived. A silent protest made by banners, held on high by the suffrage workers, caused the wrath of the women supporting the Democratic candidate.

A woman supporting Wilson ran to the leading automobile, in which was seated President Wilson, and handed a letter to him. "Silent" suffrage workers, and hooked her umbrella through the banner on which was inscribed: "Women Voters—Vote Against President Wilson. He Opposes National Woman Suffrage."

This was the signal, and in a few minutes a general attack was on. President Wilson was seated a few hundred feet away from the scene of the trouble. He was apparently unaware of the fight. The members of the suffrage party were severely mistreated before the police arrived.

HUGHES CONCLUDES HIS THIRD TOUR

Nominee Visits Utica on Way to New York After Lively Campaign.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Charles E. Hughes, homeward bound, passed through Utica, concluding his third presidential campaign trip. Governor Hughes was due to arrive in New York at 2 p. m. today.

The nominee expected to remain in New York or vicinity, possibly at Montclair, N. J., for several days before starting on his fourth trip next week. The itinerary of this trip has not been made public but it is understood that tentative plans provide for his visiting New England, Ohio again, and campaign will close with a meeting in Madison Square Garden, New York City, Saturday night, November 4.

On this recent trip the nominee has campaigned in ten states, four of them, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri being along the northern fringe of territory normally Democratic. He delivered 100 speeches and averaged 500 miles a day traveling. The longest single day's trip was on October 15, from Sioux City, Iowa, to Grand Rapids, Mich., more than 700 miles.

ELKS PLAY WHIST.

Whist formed the diversion of local Elks and their friends last night at the Elks' club headquarters, 420 Fourteenth street. Another tournament is planned by members of Lodge No. 171 for next month, the date to be announced later.

COULDN'T SAVE FOR CLOTHES AND FOR CHRISTMAS BOTH AT ONCE

So Buys Her Clothes on Credit

It's very unsatisfactory to have one saving fund for two purposes. It's so much easier to spend money than to save it, however, and when a person starts putting aside money, part of which must pay for a new suit and part of which must buy Christmas gifts, she enters the suit or the gifts will surely suffer.

Realizing this, the young lady of whom we're speaking decided to invest in a new suit IMMEDIATELY. She had plenty already saved to make the first payment and was planning to pay each week's scheduled sum at CHERY'S SHOP, she will still be able to add a substantial sum out of her salary to her Christmas fund.

If her new money, used the CREDIT SYSTEM, as CHERY'S hundreds of customers do, just that many more women would be BETTER DRESSED. They will like the courtesy and convenience of buying smart apparel on installments. And you'll like the style and variety of CHERY'S showings. The latest, prettiest, most bewitching Suits and Coats—as well as Blouses, Furts, etc.

CHERY'S have two stores in Oakland—the Indies store is at 515 13th, the men's 525 13th; also two stores in San Francisco—one at 109 Market, just above 6th, and 2400 Mission, corner 26th. The other stores are in Sacramento, Portland, Los Angeles and San Francisco.—Advertisement.

Electricity for G. N. R. R. Is New Plan

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—Plans are being worked out by the Great Northern Railroad Company for the electrification of more than 300 miles of main line between Spokane and Seattle, Wash., and other mountain divisions in the west, it became known today. The project as tentatively outlined is one of the biggest of its kind ever undertaken.

The Great Northern, through a subsidiary company, controls water rights on the Chelan river, in Washington, and the present plans, it is said, includes the raising of the level of Lake Chelan, near which the main power plant would be established. It is understood the actual preliminary work on the project will be started by next summer.

Senator Says Europe Will Handle Mexico

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—"When the war is over, if we do not restore and maintain government in Mexico as the Republican platform declares we must do, we cannot complain if other nations discharge this duty," said former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana, speaking at Trinity Auditorium here tonight, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential candidate.

It is a misfortune for which this nation will pay a heavy price that we have an administration that refuses even to maintain American rights, safeguard American lives and protect American property in Mexico at the most opportune time to do these things and declares that this government shall not restore law and order to that anarchy-ridden land.

Not an extravagance!

THIS is an advertisement not alone for our coffee, but for all coffees packed in vacuum-sealed tins. Such tins do cost something—naturally. They cost enough that a poor coffee can't afford them, for its little flavor is not worth such protection.

Good coffees are worth nothing less! For instance, Schilling's. We develop, in many ways, a fine strength and flavor in it. But what's the use of all our care and pains unless you taste this fine flavor in your cup? And you wouldn't get it if we sent Schilling's to you in paper bags or boxes or even the ordinary cans called "airtight"; for its prime strength would leak away unceasingly.

The other half of the story is: economy. The flavor is so rich that you use quite a little less than of ordinary coffees to make the same number of cups. These same vacuum-sealed tins keep it economical—pay for themselves over and over in the flavor they save.

Sold through grocers only.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A recent executive order opening to public domain of 110,000 acres in Fresno, Monterey and San Benito counties, Cal., to homestead entry on November 7 was amended today so that some of the land will be opened November 14 and the remainder December 12.

Most Effective Remedy Mother Had Ever Used

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Relieves Baby When Other Medicines Failed.

There is nothing so necessary to a child's health and comfort as regularity of the bowels. All children are especially susceptible to stomach trouble and any overstrain of the sensitive organs has a tendency to obstruct elimination. This condition is responsible for much of the illness of childhood.

To relieve constipation a mild laxative should be employed. Cathartics and purgatives are violent in their action and should be avoided. Mrs. Alfred Du Bois, Mt. Holly, N. J., says Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is without doubt the most effective remedy for constipation she has ever used and that it is the only remedy she could find for her baby. Little Earl was badly constipated during his first year and nothing she tried seemed to help him until she got a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Now he is a fine, strong, healthy boy and she thanks Dr. Caldwell for it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, free from opiates or narcotic drugs. It acts gently without griping or other discomfort, and appeals to children because of its pleasant taste. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle, and every mother should have it in the house for use whenever occasion arises. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes always be sure to ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

"Children's Day" and Ball to Close Bazaar

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS CRANE in costumes to be seen at the Bal Masque at Baby Hospital bazaar.

Baby Hospital Fete Attracts Throng From All Bay Cities

Flocking from all around the bay, a large crowd, again today, patronized the huge Baby Hospital Bazaar that east bay society women are conducting in the Auditorium arena, purchasing wares, marketing for the family larder and attending the amusement features.

"Tomorrow, on the last of the three days of the fair, is a 'children's day,' and at 3 o'clock the fairy scenes from 'The Midsommer Night's Dream' will be staged in the auditorium opera house, with a troupe of juvenile players from Berkeley's Children's Theater as the actors. This arrangement of the drama has already been given before across the bay and in Berkeley under the direction of Mrs. John Howell.

When the children's matinee begins the fair will close, and preparations will be made for the masked ball of the evening, the piece de resistance of the three days' fair.

Thousands of spectators are expected to fill the balcony, and for their benefit, the dance drama at 9:30 o'clock will be played in a great central square roped off out in the center of the arena floor, while the dancers stand watching.

This afternoon ended the two performances of movies scheduled for the first two days of the fair. A Punch and Judy show, one of the attractions, and among the popular conveniences is the cafe where luncheon is served from 12 till 2 p. m. Yesterday and today in the late afternoon Mills College girls served tea in a booth of their own, preparing the menu themselves.

For tomorrow night's ball ninety boxes, thirty of them specially erected for the occasion, have been reserved. Dancers, it was announced, must be masked, but whether they wear fancy dress costume or not is arbitrary.

Quits Bride's Side Almost at Altar

A few hours after his marriage to Miss Arlet A. McDowell, graduate nurse, Louise J. Thompson, a claim agent for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company, received an urgent business call to Eureka in the interest of his corporation and was compelled to leave his bride for a week's time.

While awaiting the return of her husband, Mrs. Thompson will stop with her friend, Mrs. A. D. Houtz, 1544 Webster street. When he returns next week the couple will go to Sausalito to reside. The bride is a native of Battle Creek, Mich., where her parents live. They have been apprised of her marriage by telegraph. Coming to Oakland several years ago, she took up the study of nursing at East Bay Sanitarium, from which she graduated six months ago.

Following several months' independent nursing on the part of Mrs. Thompson the newly-married husband decided that it was time for the ceremony, and the two went over to San Francisco, where they were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Huyler, in Masonic avenue.

Dwellings and Hotel Are Looted at Rodeo

RODEO, Oct. 20.—A gang of burglars swooped down on Rodeo Wednesday night and between midnight and dawn looted two hotels, two saloons and several private dwellings.

The first intimation of their activity came yesterday, when Frank Lopez, proprietor of a saloon in the central portion of the town, discovered that his till had been looted of $60. Investigation showed that the burglars had broken in a rear door without any apparent attempt at

WAR CENSOR YIELDS NOTHING

Careful reading of the text of the note from the allied governments in response to the protest of this government against the British seizure and censorship of United States mail shows that it settles nothing. Great Britain and France concede nothing asked of them by the Washington administration. They confine their efforts solely to explaining the working of the censor bureau and reiterate that everything will be done to prevent unnecessary inconvenience to neutral subjects. But they stand solidly for the humiliating principle of mail interference according to their will and surrender nothing substantial.

The allied governments insist that their belligerent rights are superior to the free transmission of neutral mail matter between neutral countries. They insist that they have a right to arrest neutral carriers on the high seas and forcibly convey them into British and French ports, where neutral vessels thus fall under belligerent municipal regulation. They insist unqualifiedly upon the right to view information as contraband and to open and search all mail packages, whether suspected of being intended to aid the enemy or not.

Secretary of State Lansing in his note of May 24, 1916, set forth the views of the United States government on British and French interference with mails. Briefly, the United States concedes: that contraband may be included in mail parcels, which subjects such parcels to the laws of contraband; that information potentially as damaging to the interests of a nation as war material may be contained in a "first class" mail package, and that such packages are properly liable to seizure and censoring; that belligerent governments have the right to examine suspected neutral mail on the high seas; and that all the rights of belligerents may be favorably influenced by the theory that contraband material may originate in one neutral and be destined for an enemy country through consignees in another neutral.

But the United States does not concede—or rather it has not yet conceded—the belligerent right of indiscriminate and haphazard search and seizure of all mails. It holds that belligerents may arrest carriers and examine suspected packages only and that this must be done in such manner as to entail the least possible delay. It disagrees with the allied view that neutral vessels carrying mails may be forcibly diverted from their original route and made to enter a British port, and there to suffer delay while the government censors read every letter found on the vessel. The rights of a neutral to have his mails inviolable cannot tolerate such practice. Thus the views of the allies and the United States are as far apart as ever on all questions of vital principle. The allies insist they have the right to inspect every piece of mail intended for transmission between the United States and any other neutral country, confiscate it if they like, or forward it to its destination when they get ready. They have yielded nothing on this point, reports from Washington notwithstanding.

WAR SUFFERERS

"It would be impossible for us to tell in words the extent of the needs of our children. Who can measure the horizon of the sea, or the boundaries of the earth?"

Thus Bishop Arsen Vehouni of Worcester, Mass., prelate of the Armenia church in America, speaks of the Armenian refugees, women and children, turned adrift in the inhospitable valleys and hills of the Tigris and Euphrates country by their Turkish masters. They have been dragged from their native homes, hundreds of thousands murdered and the survivors, mutilated and starving, abandoned in the desert, without clothing or food.

Next Saturday and Sunday have been proclaimed by the President national Armenian and Syrian relief days, when the American people are asked to contribute for the relief of the war victims in Moslem territory. On these days 100,000 Armenians in the United States will fast and the money they otherwise would spend for food will be turned into the fund for succoring their brethren in other lands.

Other citizens and residents in America may deny themselves something, an inconsequential thing they will not miss, in order to add a mite to this fund. An Oakland committee has been formed to receive and forward contributions. The federal government has permitted the use of a naval collier to take relief supplies from New York to the stricken countries.

FEDERAL WAGE FIXING.

Mr. Robert T. Frazier Jr. of Nashville, Tenn., who styles himself chairman of the organization of the 80 per cent of the railroad employees not members of the four brotherhoods affected by the Adamson higher wage law, has published a report to the effect that these employees are opposed to the legislation which President Wilson "big-sticked" through Congress. He says the workers outside the operating departments are opposed to any measures "which altogether ignore our rights and sacrifice our chances of betterment in order to grant a tremendous increase in wages to other men already receiving double our average wage."

Information is lacking to show just how thoroughly the "80 per cent" are organized and the extent of Mr. Frazier's authority to speak for them. But there cannot be much doubt about the opposition on the part of wage-earners generally, organized and unorganized, to the Wilson policy of fixing wages by federal laws. It is in violation of a fundamental doctrine of labor unionism.

The American Federation of Labor at its thirty-fifth annual convention, held in San Francisco in November, 1915, adopted the following resolution, which is a very plain expression on the subject:

The American Federation of Labor, as in the past, again declares that the question of regulation of wages and hours of labor should be undertaken through trade union activity, and not be made the subject of law through legislative enactment.

Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, attended this convention and stoutly championed the resolution. He said, among other things:

If to secure the eight-hour day by law has any merit in it at all, it must of necessity mean that the eight-hour work-day limitation would apply to all workers, not a few, not a majority, not two-thirds, not nine-tenths, but to all.

The convention by a majority of 2104 went on record in favor of the resolution and as being in accord with Mr. Gompers. The report of the committee on resolutions which was adopted had this to say on the subject:

The American Federation of Labor, as in the past, again declares that the question of regulation of wages and the hours of labor should be undertaken through trade union activity, and not be made subject of law through legislative enactment, excepting in so far as such regulation affect or govern the employment of women and minors, health and morals; and employment by Federal, State or municipal government.

It should not surprise Congress and the administration if the enactment of the Adamson wage law is disapproved by all classes of labor except the men directly affected. And even their gratitude cannot be expected to endure very long.

The committee on statistics of the United States Chamber of Commerce takes issue with the Jeremiads on the prospect of a food shortage in this country. "The real problem," it says, "is not to seek needed supplies abroad, but to find an adequate and satisfactory market for the constantly increasing domestic output." There must be much truth in this statement, for there is scarcely an agricultural food product, either primary or secondary, which has not outstripped the growth of population in the last fifteen years. Bad economic laws and market manipulators are the main causes for food shortage calamities.

FARM LOAN ACT EXPLOITATION.

(From the New York Journal of Commerce.)
The Farm Loan Board seems to be encountering one of the many difficulties likely to arise under the administration of what is known as the farm loan or rural credits act. One purpose of the act and of the authority given to the board, some of which is of doubtful constitutionality, is to make a sort of national monopoly of the peculiar kind of banking provided for, and preclude the exploitation of farm loans on mortgage or other instruments of credit outside of the new law. That can only be done by making the national system so effective and satisfactory that nothing else can successfully compete with it. There is nothing to prevent the organization of land banks under State laws and there is risk that this may be attempted under some sort of misrepresentation or misunderstanding as to the application of the new national statute.

The joint stock bank feature of that statute is of a questionable character at best. The proposed banks can only be incorporated and operate under authority of the Farm Loan Board and rules which it prescribes, but that body has had occasion to call the Attorney General's attention to the fact that promoters are at work in the West for the organization of such institutions and getting from farmers subscriptions to stock and contributions to expenses without its authority. It is said that considerable money has already been obtained for such stock, with the deduction of a percentage for the expense of promotion, though the board has made a rule that no charter shall be granted for a joint stock bank in the system in the organization of which there has been any expense for promotion. It has also deferred all consideration of the joint stock banks until the organization of the Federal land banks has been completed. It does not expect to accomplish that before next February.

It is not clear whether these promoters, who appear to be charged with violating the law or disregarding the rules of the board, have been proceeding under any false pretense of legal authority where they have none, or are merely taking advantage of ignorance or lack of understanding the requirements, without making any tangible false pretense. Anybody can seek subscriptions for stock in a bank to be organized for loaning on land mortgage or the general credit of farmers under State laws. Then any offense in the proceeding will be under State jurisdiction. The Federal Farm Loan Board cannot prevent that kind of thing, except by exposing and discrediting it.

NOTES and COMMENT

Referee Billy Jordan had to submit to the proceeding which he had many times conducted—that of being counted out.

The classification of King Constantine of Greece with President Wilson is correct. Each has kept his country out of war.

The Santa Ana Blade thus disports itself: "A Los Angeles man claims a woman's kiss drove him insane. No; the lady's address is not given."

William J. Bryan and Henry Ford predict the election of Wilson. But the fact is that as prophets they do not possess a high batting average.

The game at Salt Lake on Wednesday was played in a snowstorm. Nature is taking a whack at the Seals, along with other untoward things. They lost, 4 to 1.

Employing barbers and journeymen have come to an agreement that a law should be enacted to prevent their working on Sunday. If they agree about it, why the law?

The man who was reported dead turns out to be alive and it is referred to as a "joke." Instances are not numerous where it is considered a joke to be alive, though they are occasionally met with in the suicide news.

There will be considerable joshing of Justice of the Peace Mattos of Centerville, who ran into two women with his machine. Mattos is the Nemesis of careless auto drivers, and there are bound to be those who will take pleasure out of the fact that he has found out how it is himself.

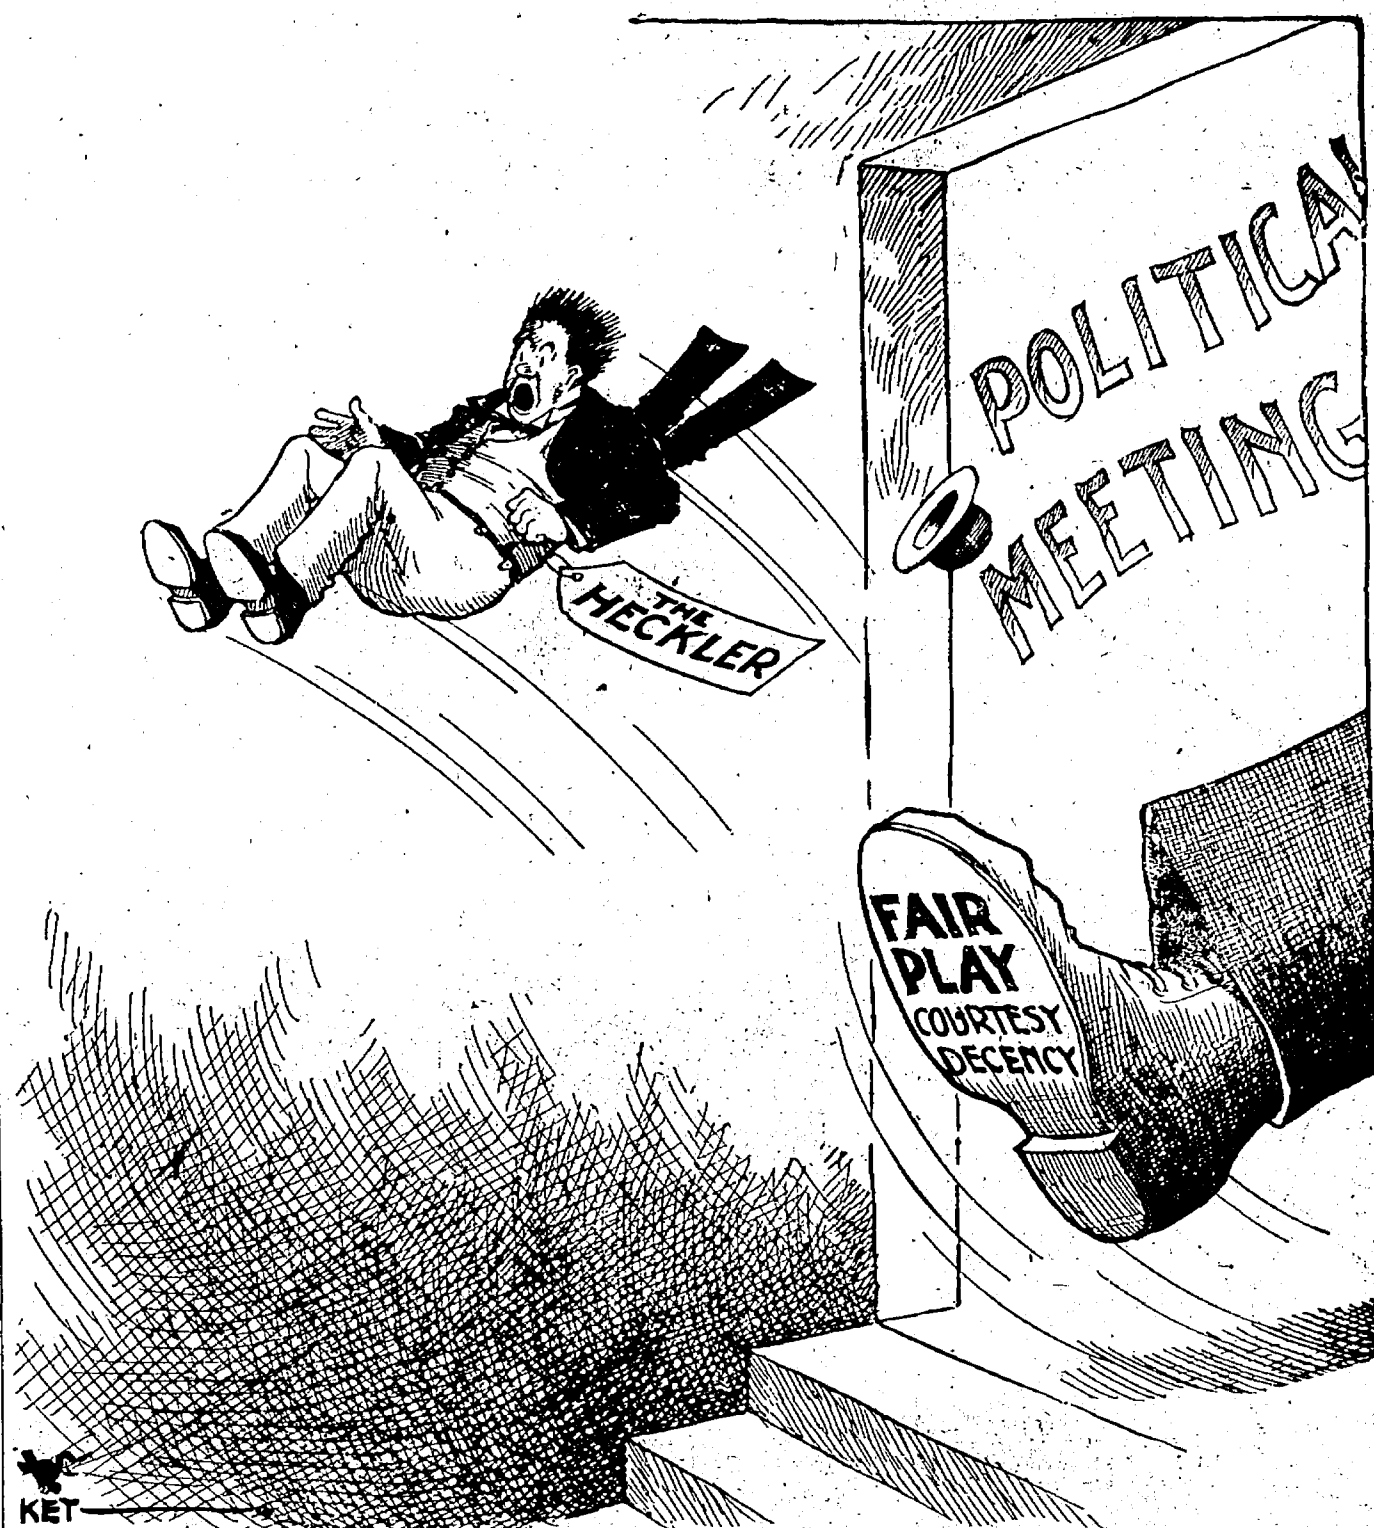

A unique experience and one characteristically Californian, is that which passengers on a new inter-urban car line at Fresno are to enjoy. The route is through a fig orchard, and passengers will be able to pick the fruit from the car windows. At least, that is the way an exuberant promoter puts it.

A Chicago athlete ran all the way from Milwaukee to Chicago, a distance of ninety-five miles, in some ten minutes less than fifteen hours. In view of what he ran away from and the statement that he ate a dish of ice cream when he arrived, his status on the wet-and-dry question can be gauged.

An appreciation from the Stockton Mail: "Any one who ever came gliding down the easy grade of the Western Pacific cannot but give an appreciative thought to the man who built it, Virgil Bogue, who has just died. He did his work—real man's work—well, and passed out at that happy age when his work might well be called done, but his usefulness, not impaired."

The Richmond Record-Herald is skeptical about the natural resources of Mexico: "The worse off Mexico becomes, the more frequently we hear of its great natural advantages. It is stated every day that Mexico is the richest country in the world. Which it isn't. The great richness of Mexico reminds us of the great smartness of a town drunkard when he is sober."

Two loud muffled reports awakened the residents of Vernon Heights, north of Oakland, at 6:30 o'clock this morning. They told of the destruction of one of the large distributing reservoirs of the Oakland Water Company.

Soon the University of California students will be enjoying the novelty of attending classes held in tents. The white canvas of one tent already covers a large area in front of North Hall.

DRY GOODS MEN PLAN PROGRESS DWELL ON OUTLOOK FOR TRADE

Urged to Seek Share in Politics

Samuel Leask of Santa Cruz was today re-elected president of the California Retail Dry Goods Association, which completed its convention at the Hotel Oakland. Oakland is represented again in the list of state officers by Irving Kahn, re-elected secretary of the organization. Arthur Marston of San Diego was elected vice-president and R. W. Costello of San Francisco, treasurer.

The directors elected today are: W. E. Chamberlain of Los Angeles, A. J. Hart of San Jose, A. S. Lavenson of Oakland, J. G. Bullock of Los Angeles and William Marks of San Francisco.

Harmony of spirit and community of aims among the cities of the bay district were emphasized last night at the banquet tendered the delegates to the banquet, tendered the delegates to the Hotel Oakland. Tributes to the progressive enterprise of Oakland were paid by the representatives of the organization from the other sections of the state, and emphasis was placed upon the wonderful future that awaits the empire of the Golden West and the great central harbor through which the trade of the Orient is destined to flow.

If the assemblage had met in the days of the primacy of Venice there would have been panoply of plumes and the sheen of velvets under the lights around the festive board, for the men present were the merchant princes of California, representing the emporia of every city of importance in the state. Clothed though they were in the plain habiliments of modern civilization, they were the possessors of wealth and the means to wealth.

H. C. Capwell acted as toastmaster for the occasion and likened his dictatorial position to that of a ringmaster.

In order that you shall not be compelled to hear anything like my speech at Sacramento a year ago, he said, I have been made ringmaster. All I am to do is to crack the whip for the others.

POLITICS SOUTH.
Because of the "nearness of election" it is proper that we should first hear a little something about politics. We shall know much more very soon, and most of us will either win or lose a hat. It is right that we should hear of politics from the south, because we shall surely, some of us, have to go south after election. The smoothness of the procedure during this convention means good politics somewhere, and so I shall show that we need not adhere to the program too closely. I call upon W. A. Faris of Los Angeles.

Faris urged that the drygoods association take a more active interest in matters pertaining to politics. He pointed to the fact that there is not one member of the state senate who is a merchant, and that there are but three merchants who are members of the state assembly.

HANDS ACROSS THE BAY.
"Oakland and San Francisco" was the topic of the address given by Leon Roos, president of the Retail Dry Goods Association of San Francisco. In commenting on the natural unity of the two communities in purposes and ideals, he said:

I must say that I am most fortunate to be interested in the welfare of these two cities. It gives me great pleasure to point out to you men the necessity of these two great communities of the West being considered as one.

SHARE PROSPERITY.
If we of San Francisco do well and succeed, you are bound to share with us in our prosperity, and the same is true that if the god of fortune sees fit to hit you first he is bound to cross the bay to us; no matter where he lights first, his next thought is bound to be for the sister city.

I am always most happy when I see that our sister city of Oakland has prospered and induced some new factory, some new enterprise, to start work under its flag, because I then know that if this is a success, San Francisco also is bound to feel its good effect in due time. What we need to make the retail business of these two great cities successful is manufacturing; that you all know, so I will not bore you nor dwell upon the subject. But here let me say that if we are to get these manufacturing plants under our roof, we must not knock each other, else the people who are looking for locations might allow us to knock and then move their camp further south to fair Los Angeles.

TALKS FOR PRESS.
Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, responded to the sentiment "The Press." He said in part:

A wide experience has taught me that the less one knows of a subject the greater the inclination and willingness to discuss it. Judged from this standpoint I should be an authority. I am frank to state that I am somewhat more enlightened than I was twelve months ago when I first entered upon this new work. As to whether the readers of the publication with which I am connected are any more enlightened I hesitate to venture an opinion. Seriously, however, I am convinced that no position carries with it greater responsibility than that of publisher. In this enlightened age everyone of any account reads one or more daily papers. They are essential to the routine of every intelligent person. No business requires the exercise of clearer judgment, of more constant alertness or greater aggressiveness.

A successful publisher cannot gauge his success wholly by revenue or net profits. He must be actuated by high ideals and inspired with an ambition to accomplish good through the agency placed in his hands. If good is accomplished, then he can call himself successful. The confidence and respect of the public are essential to success.

Personal Journalism, thank God, is rapidly passing in the United States. The people demand that newspapers act as honest purveyors of the news. Editors have the right and are expected editorially to interpret the news, but every intelligent reader likewise has the privilege of interpreting the news as he reads it, demanding only that he be given all the facts. It is not the editorial expression that works the injury, but the suppression of news that calls for the most severe criticism. Failure to print both sides of a question cannot be too strongly condemned. The weak as well as the strong are entitled to a hearing.

PUBLIC NOT FOOLED.
Independence is demanded. A controlled paper cannot long remain in disguise. The public is quick to discern lack of independence. They know when the voice is that of Jacob and the hand that of Esau. The paper, whose motto for many years is "utterly honest and reasonable to a community."

Trans-Bay Unity Topic Discussed

A paper must co-operate with the citizens of the community in which it is published. It must work with the merchants. The prosperity of one means the prosperity of the other. By outsiders, communities are frequently judged by their newspapers. To the man or woman at a distance they represent the community. If the newspapers appear prosperous the community is so regarded. Newspapers should strive for honesty in their advertising columns. The public should not be cheated as for new or thought advertisements. It is to the interest of the legitimate advertiser that he be protected against the man who makes false claims for the purpose of deceiving the public.

CONSIDERS TAXES.
H. W. Clark, director of the Tax Association of California, discussed "How Taxes Affect the Retailer." He said that the merchant is subjected to more force of tax than any other class of business with the exception of the public service corporation. He urged a sustained interest in the matter of public expenditures and declared that the tendency is for the government to gain its income from direct rather than indirect taxation.

OTHER SIDE OF POLITICS.
Samuel Leask of Santa Cruz, president of the association, spoke next. He said:

Business and politics do not mix. Business and public affairs have different ways of doing things. We hear talk of the merchant going into politics, and yet Irving Kahn, who is greatly interested in public education, would not be a member of the Board of Education. The office holder does unbusinesslike things, because public and private business methods are so different. The words of Mr. Knowland interest me for I have had a member of opinion of newspapers. I am reminded of the story of the editor who would not retract statements of a friend of mine on the ground that his business was "to go right on and give the papers." Either Mr. Knowland is ahead or behind the times. I hope Mr. Knowland is right in his belief that the newspapers are getting better.

Max Charles followed with a brief after-dinner speech, in which he said everyone had spoken on his subjects. He confined himself to several good stories.

G. B. Daniels of the Enquirer said in part:

JUST DIFFERENTIATE.
What Mr. Leask says of his opinion of newspapers, I think, means that he does not differentiate between newspapers. Mr. Knowland is absolutely right. I know such men as he are publishers, and the same high ideal which guided him in public office is guiding him as a publisher. As regards the merchant and politics, why do not you realize that the man who is not a politician, which is that you do not want to go into politics. In regard to what Mr. Clark says about merchants and bonds, the merchants have worked for the bonds in Oakland and have now, the men who are in the retail business in Oakland and witnessed their great progress. They have made their successes by the hardest kind of careful work, and they have given the goods and earned their successes.

We have often tried to induce Mr. Lavenson to go into the political field, but he won't. When it was a struggle to take the Home for the Aged out of the political field, he was the man who wanted men to do it. We had a hard time finally persuading Sol Kahn to be a director. He did, and made a splendid official. Right here I should like to say there never was a better citizen merchant than was Mr. Kahn. Later Mr. Capwell became a trustee and since that time the institution is being administered properly.

There is no use of argument. The merchant will not participate in politics. He is too busy making money, and he does make such a heap of it. But we newspaper people have a high regard for him, and he allows us to go along somehow.

SOCIAL INSURANCE.
Trying Kahn followed with a discussion of the proposed state social insurance law. He said in part:

Mr. Knowland was right when he said that we are usually assigned to speak on topics about which we have little knowledge. But I try to learn something about legislation by watching its making. The state legislature will meet in January and introduce some 4000 new laws, and we will run to find out what they are all about. The commission form of handling legislation is expensive, but it does give us a better way of ascertaining the nature of the proposed legislation. The law is a humanitarian measure, and may be a good thing. There are so many intricacies in its preparation that even the most health conditions comprehend it. At present the employees of the larger stores have their mutual benefit societies which handle this problem, and it is not necessary that the department stores take a hand under the law compels.

The department stores will be injured in that they must make good losses which result from less advantageous kinds of employment. This is the health conditions prevail in the modern department store. Proponents of the measure point to many advantages, one of which appeals to me especially, and that is that it will tend to reduce illness, just as fire insurance and the compensation laws have reduced the number of fires and accidents.

JAPAN CUTS OFF GERMAN COIN SUPPLY

Closing of Deutsche-Asiatische Bank of Yokohama Works a Hardship to Teutonic Prisoners; Relief Aid Is Shut Down

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The Deutsche-Asiatische bank of Yokohama has been closed by the Japanese government, according to Japanese newspaper received today. The result is that several thousand prisoners of war and hundreds of Germans residing in Japan are without funds, as it ends the American consul's monthly distribution of 2000 yen, drawn from German funds in the bank for German relief.

The cutting off of the German government's relief distribution is causing the most hardship, and while awaiting action on request for a modification, the American consulate is working to relieve the war victims. All of their funds were shut off by the bank closing. The bank officials are to be allowed to pay at least part of the deposits to keep Germans from starvation.

The Japanese, it is rumored, closed the bank on suspicion that funds were being sent to aid the German cause in Europe and to pay spies.

New Low Temperature Records Set; Snow in Iron Ranges.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 20.—The entire southwest was in the grip of last night's storm wave, temperatures almost everywhere throughout Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Northern Texas setting low records for this early in the year, according to the weather bureau reports here. The thermometer fell in Kansas to below 20 degrees, west of Concordia, in Missouri to 24 at St. Joseph; in Oklahoma to 28, at Oklahoma city. Snow flurries were general, according to the reports.

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 20.—Rising in from two to six inches, snow today covers Northern Minnesota. The snow ranges and the North woods. The snow began falling here last night. GROWTH OF INDUSTRY.
John Y. Miller of the California Cotton Mills invited the delegates to inspect the plant of the concern. He said:

Some seven years ago cotton growing in California amounted to $14,000 yearly. This year it will reach $12,000,000. In Oakland we shall handle $2,000,000 worth of the material. We believe you would be interested in a plant turning out a commodity which you help us sell. A. N. Crane spoke of the evils of the magazine mail order system and told of the work being done to wean customers from co-operating so that it will be discontinued. He said it was a plan unfair and injurious to local merchants.

Bandits 'Beat It' And Leave Loot Unusual Hold Up Mystifies Police

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Four armed men and masked bandits went through the motions of a holdup in the saloon of Kipke & Madison, 2598 Polson street, early this morning without getting any loot and with no apparent reason evident why they did not rifle the cash register.

Richard Kipke was behind the bar and Joseph Burns, of 8053 Twenty-second street, was standing some distance off in the place, when a man entered, pistol in hand and ordered Kipke to throw up his hands. The command was obeyed and the robber disappeared in a side door. A moment later a second bandit similarly armed ordered Burns to throw up his hands and followed the first into the room. Then two robbers appeared, one confronting Burns and the other Kipke. Just as the saloon man expected that his money would be taken the two men came out of the inside room and with their companions dashed out the side door and escaped.

He Explains That the Normal American Borrowing System Is Interrupted by War—and Interruption Makes Changes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — American great prosperity is in itself responsible for the high cost of living, Director of the Mint von Engelken held today. We have more gold in its vaults, more money circulated and the greatest export trade in history, the United States, he said, is once again a golden age.

OUR OWN OFFSPRING.

The high cost of living is a creature of our own creation.

The United States is normally borrowing nation. Capital utilized for construction in the past has been recruited largely abroad. Our economic affairs consequently have been adjusted to meet our customary outflow of money required to pay our interest bills in foreign countries.

NEED OF NURSERIES

URGED BY SPEAKER

Drawing attention to the fact that provision is made for the placing of working mother's child that is under school age, Harry Boyle of the Board of Education yesterday stated at the Oak Federation of Mothers' Clubs Receptance luncheon at Capwell's roof garden that day nurseries constituted the "missing link" of the Oakland school system.

Board of Education and leaders of various federations of mothers' clubs from different counties. Boyle was a guest of honor at the luncheon, which brought together nearly 200 representatives of the various organizations in the federation. Mrs. D. de Rome presided, calling upon, among others, as speakers Miss Annie Florio Brown, president of the Board of Education; Lewis B. Ayers, Jr., of the Education

Two day nurseries, Boyle stated, badly needed by Oakland. "One," he suggested, "should be located in the clinity of Twenty-third avenue and other in West Oakland." He added a $4000 appropriation by the city would start this department, and appeal for assistance from the mothers' club campaigning for it.

Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle, Wa

The smart set which loves to dance—and they all love it—are promised a delightful time this week when Mrs. Robert Van Bokkelen opens her beautiful Forest avenue home to two separate groups of friends. Mrs. Van Bokkelen has sent out cards for this evening when the first of the series of two dances will be given. Tomorrow evening another congenial coterie will accept her hospitality. A midnight supper is planned to round out each of the early winter festivities.

If ever there was a truly autumn scene conceived it was last evening when the spacious residence of Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Henshaw was transformed into a bower of the late year's blossoms in honor of the formal presentation of their daughter, Miss Ida Henshaw. Society on debutantes on this side of the bay, who is indeed an acquisition to the younger set. Shortly after 9 o'clock the first of the several hundred guests began to arrive and kept up a steady stream of greetings until well after the midnight hour. At 11 o'clock dancing was in order and the formality of the staid function somewhat relaxed.

That as much floor space might be given as possible, the guests were kept high up on the walls. Great baskets of pink chrysanthemums in the varying shades of pink lined the rooms, from which trailed long streamers of foliage in the flaming red and yellows of the month. In one of the smaller rooms where punch was served was erected a grand arbor of leaves and fruit.

Miss Henshaw's gown was as exquisite a robe as art could assemble, as she stood with her guests in the new of the realm of the grown up world. The foundation was of cloth of silver, over which was draped a gown of perfect white tulle elaborated with the finest of handwork. Silver slippers were worn with the effective of the staid function somewhat relaxed.

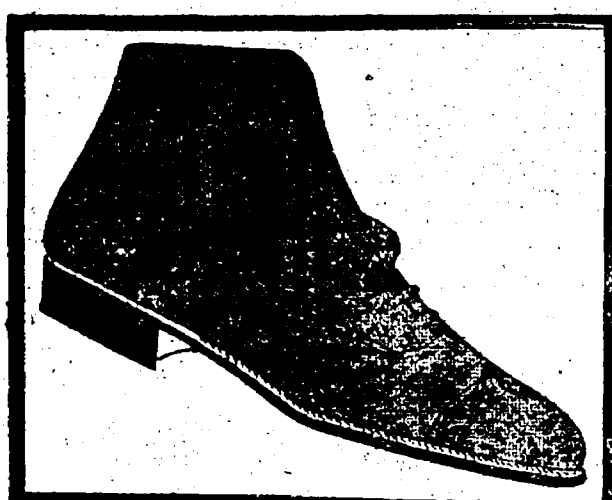

The receiving line was an intensely interesting one, embracing the many branches of the Henshaw clan, the winter's debutantes and the brides elect. Mrs. Earl Cowton Filmore, the

The motif for the occasion will be Miss Ida Henshaw, who leads the procession of debutantes of the winter, and who was introduced to the society of the city by her father, Mr. and Mrs. Henshaw, who will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. Edgar Stone, and a number of the girls who are intimate friends of herself and Miss Henshaw.

Nearly five hundred guests will assemble this evening in the ballroom at Hotel Oakland, that the Providence Hospital Auxiliary may be the richer for the pleasure which they will find in dancing until the wee hours. The ball is an annual precedent for a notable success. With the exception of the auxiliary, the hospital is planning to entertain at Hotel Oakland, and will be assisted by her mother, Mrs. Edgar Stone, and a number of the girls who are intimate friends of herself and Miss Henshaw.

A number of dinner parties have been arranged to precede the tea. Miss Hogan and Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. Henry Lorrigan, Mrs. James Conkey, Mrs. Peter Crinnion and many others. A number of dinner parties have been arranged to precede the tea.

That part of society which had the pleasure of meeting Miss Mary Helen Carlisle and knowing her charming work will be delighted to know that she has come back to California to remain for an indefinite length of time. Miss Carlisle was entertained by a host of friends on the bay on the occasions of her previous visits to the west and formed some lasting friendships. Her last visit to the Piedmont folk. For a week or so she will be a guest at the Town and Country Club. Recently she has been sojourning at Newport, where she mingled in the busy life there.

The attractive new home of Mrs. Bertram Booth in Piedmont will be opened for the first time tomorrow evening at a house dance, for which she is claiming a few of her closer friends. Mrs. Booth recently returned from a visit to the As Miss Florence Mitchell she was happily entertained. She and her husband have taken up their household goods in a lovely little home in Bowie street, which will figure largely in the social affairs of that circle in which they move during the winter.

Dr. G. E. Brinkerhoff and Mrs. Brinkerhoff have reopened their Piedmont home after an absence of several weeks and are receiving guests with warmest cordials. A host of friends who missed them went north to place their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Brinkerhoff, in college in Corvallis, Oregon. After her comfortable stay at the home of her mother, Dr. Brinkerhoff has been sojourning at Newport, where she mingled in the busy life there.

Miss Amy Requa is asking a number of the girls of the smart set to be her house guests over the weekend. She will entertain them in the only way which society is entertaining this week at the hotel. Among those who will cross from San Francisco to accept the hospitality of the hostess are Miss Margaret Scheid and Miss Ruth Walsh.

Mrs. Percy Brun, who will be remembered by the readers of the Tribune.

A luncheon charming in detail was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Powell, who extended her hospitality to the members of the Bell Building Association. Miss Powell is now directing the efforts of the Young Woman's Christian Association in a highly efficient way.

Mrs. Franklin Bangs was a hostess this week, entertaining a number of friends at her home. Among those who are meeting forthrightly in this city are Misses Henry C. Davis, Mrs. W. H. Huntington, Mrs. Samuel Hack, Mrs. Daniel Eastbrook, Mrs. J. W. Woodbury, Mrs. William R. Davis, Mrs. Frank Greenwood, Mrs. Frank H. Ogden, Mrs. George Chubb, Mrs. W. H. Shepard, Mrs. George Percy, Mrs. William E. Sharon, Mrs. Samuel Taylor, Mrs. L. W. Storor, Mrs. C. M. Cornwell, Mrs. A. F. Cornwell, Mrs. D. C. Bradley and Mrs. C. W. Kinsey.

On Monday evening, October 30, Mrs. Henry C. Davis will entertain the same group of friends informally.

For the pleasure of meeting Archbishop Hanna there will assemble a large number of guests on this evening of next week at the Newman hall, when the members of the club and alumni will act as hosts. The Newman Club affairs are being together an interesting group of representative folk from the cities touching the bay.

The anxiety attending the operation to which Miss Ruth Jones was obliged to submit last Tuesday in the Newman Club affairs is assured and are now her day bright with gifts of flowers and favors due to the heart of the invalid. Miss Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones.

For the pleasure of meeting Archbishop Hanna there will assemble a large number of guests on this evening of next week at the Newman hall, when the members of the club and alumni will act as hosts. You'll have to hurry and order or get your Picturegame supplies now, as our supply is rapidly coming to an end, and while we want to satisfy everyone, yet we cannot guarantee that everybody will get all the Catalogs and Reply Books they want, unless they get them at once—so you'd better hurry and get what Catalogs and Reply Books you want at once.

PICTUREGAMERS: YOU CAN EITHER

CLIP, BUY, SKETCH, SEW, PASTE, BIND, DRAW, PURCHASE WORK HARD OR YOU CAN

SIT AT YOUR EASE AND ENTER YOUR TITLES IN THE HANDY AND CONVENIENT REPLY BOOK.

SUBMIT ALL YOUR ANSWERS IN THE EASIEST WAY

Let us talk about the Reply Book way of submitting titles to the Picturegame Pictures. First about the convenience of this little booklet. It consists of 30 numbered pages, on which you write the titles you wish for each picture. You then sign your name and address twice (once in the front and once in the back of the book), and then hand it in as your complete set. No pictures to provide yourself with. No buying at all, no binding, sewing, pasting, sketching, troubling. The Reply Book has every answer to them.

Now let us discuss the way the Reply Book permits you to submit all your skill, without requiring you to submit any pictures at all. Suppose you have found three or four five good titles for a picture—titles that fit that picture, in your judgment, fairly well. Your ingenuity has found those titles in the Catalog—perhaps other participants have missed one or more of them. Well, then, why not submit ALL your ingenuity—all the titles you ingenuously have found as applying more or less to the picture. One of them may be the BEST title, and the person submitting the LARGEST NUMBER OF BEST TITLES will get the $1000 cash, first prize! Not only that, consider also the judges may name many more than 35 best titles for the 35 pictures—may name two or more titles for many of the pictures as BEST. If that happens, then the persons submitting many titles for the pictures will be playing safest! Use a Reply Book—it's the convenient way to submit many titles. The Reply Book provides for contestants to apply from one to five answers to each picture.

Also the Reply Book contains the complete checking system. Be sure you keep a list of the answers you submit, and do not lose this list. See instructions on Page 47 in the Reply Book.

THE COMBINATION CATALOG AND REPLY BOOK IS NEEDED BY YOU TO PROPERLY SUBMIT YOUR SET OF ANSWERS. IT IS THE BEST, CHEAPEST AND NEATEST WAY.

GET THE CATALOG AND REPLY BOOK TODAY WITHOUT FAIL. Check over the entire set of 35 pictures. EXAMPLE: You may find for Picture No. 1 you have 1 correct and 3 incorrect answers for Picture No. 2 none correct and 4 incorrect and so on for the 35 pictures. So you find you have a total of 30 correct answers out of a possible 35 correct, and a total of 90 incorrect answers—or a grand total of 120 answers. All this you note on your duplicate list, and after you verify the totals, sign your name and address and send it to the Picturegame Editor, The Tribune, 722 1/2 Market St., San Francisco, California. If you are entitled to a prize. Be accurate in checking your set—your duplicate sheet will be checked against the set of answers you submitted in the Reply Book. Read carefully the announcements in this newspaper.

BETTER GET THE COMBINATION REPLY BOOK AND CATALOG. YOU WILL SUBMIT ALL OF YOUR GOOD TITLES AND TURN IN A NEAT, CLEAN SET OF ANSWERS. ALSO YOU WILL HAVE THE PRINTED FORM FOR CHECKING YOUR OWN ANSWERS.

No Deaths in N. Y. From Paralysis Plague

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Not a single death from infantile paralysis in the entire city was reported yesterday by health authorities for the first time since the last week in June, when the epidemic began. Total deaths since then were 275. Six new cases were reported today.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.
When Ben Levy and Peter Amidon tried to sell some jewelry in a pawnshop at Seventh and Washington streets this morning they were placed under arrest by Police Inspectors Drew, Quigley and McCarthy, who had recognized the articles as being a part of $200 worth of loot recently taken from the home of Mrs. A. I. Jackson, 2257 Park Boulevard. The two will be charged with burglary.

ARMENIAN RELIEF TO BE UNDER RED CROSS

Local Chapter Makes Appeal for Funds to Aid Starving Syrians

In response to a direct appeal from the President of the United States, the Turkish government has now consented to the distribution of relief supplies to the starving people of Syria, on the condition that the work shall be carried on jointly through the American Red Cross and the Turkish Red Crescent Society. The allied governments have consented to the shipment of relief supplies from America into Syria for distribution. As the result, the way is now open for the American people to come to the relief of a great body of suffering and helpless people in Syria. Thousands of Syrians are said to have already died of starvation and many others are at the present time in a starving condition. All day tomorrow, assisting the nation-wide effort to raise funds for the relief of the destitute Armenians, re-lays of prominent society and club women will station themselves in the shops and banks to take subscriptions and money contributions.

Mrs. William F. Kroll is directing the committees that will be in the banks and Mrs. George E. Perkins is chairman of those who will have the shops and hotels. At each table there will be boxes for the contributions and booklets describing the plight of the peoples of Armenia brought on by the war.

MANY WILL AID.
One of those who will have charge of a large group will be Mrs. A. B. Lavenson, and another will be Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith. Mrs. Smith's assistants will be at Smith Brothers from 10 o'clock to 6 in the following order: 10 to 12 p. m., Mrs. George W. Percy and Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith; 12 to 2 p. m., Mrs. William E. Sharon and Mrs. C. L. Smith; 2 to 3 p. m., Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook and Mrs. Emma Smith; 3 to 5 p. m., Mrs. A. C.

Inquiry Charges Lack of Police System

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—A legislative investigation to determine the cause of the alleged excessive number of disturbances in the local police courts is recommended by the New York Bureau of Municipal Research in a report, following a probe into police court conditions. During the recent year from July 1, 1915, to June 30, 1916, 35,514 cases were handled. Four out of every five of these cases were dismissed, according to the report.

There were 31,554 misdemeanor cases, out of which 26,056 were dismissed, 5211 resulted in conviction and 553 remain pending.

The report of the Research Bureau says: "This situation leads to either one or more of the following conclusions: The police are making a vast number of unnecessary arrests; the police judges are needlessly issuing warrants; the police court is not co-operating with the police department in its effort to suppress crime."

Asks Divorce Be Set Earlier; Wins

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Evelyn Higuera, of 2710 Army street, whose divorce action was to have been heard tomorrow by Superior Judge Graham, came into court this morning and requested a trial today. She declared that she a Seventh-day Adventist and that her religion would not allow her to accept a divorce on a Saturday. Samuel Higuera, the husband, originally brought suit and Mrs. Higuera filed a cross-complaint charging cruelty. She received her decree.

Deputies Cannot Find Romie Jacks

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Romie Jacks, clubman, who is being sued by Miss Babbie Reaser for $25,000 damages for breach of promise is not to be found by two deputy sheriffs seeking to serve him with a summons in the action. They have been unable to locate him although they have been several times close at his heels. Jacks was living at the Hotel Fielding when the news of the suit was published and he immediately left without giving his destination. Miss Reaser declares that she is ready to marry Jacks but as he does not agree she wants him for her wounded feelings.

LODGE WOMEN WILL CONCLUDE TONIGHT

Eastern Star to Install Officers
With Brilliant Ceremony.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 20.—Announcement of appointments for the year 1916-1917 will be made tonight when new state officers of the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, are installed. Worthy Grand Matron-Elect Dr. Maude Noble Haven of San Francisco has been in constant communication with leaders of the convention and at tonight's ceremonial it is expected that twelve state appointments, besides a large number of district deputy grand worthy matrons, will be among the listed positions.

Arrangements for the glittering ceremonial tonight busied many committees during the past few days, and it is thought that the installation will be without parallel among Grand Chapter conventions. The present meeting ends tonight.

Today's business included the hearing and adoption of reports from a number of standing committees. Among the problems presented was that of a combine of home for old members of the order and for orphans of deceased lodge people. Committees have worked on the plan for the past year, it is said, and preliminary work is now finished.

The routine of sessions is broken by means of entertainment offered by local members of the order. Automobile rides, theater parties and other social events have been in order during the entire week.

CALOMEL ISN'T SOLD HERE NOW

Nasty Drug Salivates, Makes
You Sick and You Lose a Day's Work.

Every druggist in town — your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason: Dodson's Liver Tonic is taking its place.

Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results. Dodson's Liver Tonic is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant, fasting, purgative remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't grip or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition. —Advertisement.

LEGISLATOR WILL BE PROSECUTED

Views of Peace Leader in Parliament Incur Ruler's Displeasure.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—It is announced that Joseph King, Liberal member of Parliament for North Somerset, will appear in the Bow street police court to answer a charge made under the Defence of Realm Act. King is widely known in the United States, where he has made visits several times. He has always been a strong peace advocate.

Since the outbreak of the war Mr. King has made several attacks on the government in the House of Commons. In February, 1915, he introduced a resolution declaring that the action of the government in restricting the freedom of the press and withholding information about the war has been guided by no clear principles and has been calculated to cause suspicion and discontent.

Later he announced his intention to introduce a resolution regarding retaliation by the British for the use by the Germans of asphyxiation gas. He also questioned the government in 1915 regarding the deportation of Ted Sloan, the American jockey.

HAD BILIOUS ATTACKS.
"My son, nineteen years of age, suffered frequently from bilious attacks. My husband brought home a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and began giving them to him. They helped him right away. He began to eat heartily and picked up right along," writes Mrs. Thomas Campbell, Kirkville, N. Y. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

REPLY BOOKS SOLD BUT ONE DAY MORE

Participants Urged to Complete Picture-game Outfits on Time

The Reply Book's conveniences and aids have been pointed out to participants so frequently that it is not necessary to tell you about them again. Participants are advised, however, not to rush to a decision to use single pictures and coupons only until they have carefully thought out what this will mean—it will probably mean that you will eliminate, at the eleventh hour, some titles you really wish to submit. For if you haven't a Reply Book you must secure a separate picture and coupon on which to submit each title you submit, and you will probably choose to leave out a title rather than provide yourself with another picture. And the title you leave out may be one of those the judges will name best.

You haven't much time left in which to act, but you can get a Reply Book today, and have time to write all your titles in it for submittal. In the Reply Book you may submit five titles for each picture. And if you have a Reply Book you have no drawing to do, no pictures to buy—you just write down your titles, sign your name and address on the cover of the book and submit it as your complete set.

Hurry! Tomorrow is the last day for securing pictures or the Catalogue Reply Book.

Your set of answers need not be submitted, however, until October 28.

Return of Troops Will Be Delayed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—No further important relief of border troops is contemplated by the war department until after the American-Mexican commission at Atlantic City reaches a decision, it was learned today. If this is satisfactory, the troops, it is said, will return in a body. Otherwise, all will probably be left at their present border stations.

Lineman Touches Wires Is Instantly Killed

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 20.—William R. Thomas, president of Seattle Local No. 77 of the Electrical Workers' Union, was killed here while working at the top of a city power line pole when his arm came in contact with two high-tension cables carrying 2500 volts of electricity. Charles Cross, who was working with Thomas on the same pole, separated Thomas' body from the wires with a blow of his fist at the risk of his own life.

HOWARD WILL TO BE FOUGHT

Son and Daughter in Massachusetts to Start Contest for Share in Estate.

The will of Mrs. Anna Dwight Howard, former resident of Oakland and social leader on both sides of the bay, who died on July 7 of this year in San Francisco, leaving an estate valued at $500,000, is about to be attacked in the Massachusetts court by Mrs. Frederick S. Whitwell, a daughter, and William D. M. Howard, a son, according to Attorneys J. A. Mackenzie and Leon E. Morris. The bulk of the estate consists of stocks and bonds and small realty holdings in San Francisco, San Mateo and Boston.

By the terms of the will the entire property was placed in trust with the provision that the income should be divided equally between two sons, John Kenneth Howard of Boston and William D. M. Howard of San Francisco. Upon the death of William the other son would assume full possession.

Miss Frances Howard, a daughter, was cut off with the choice between "a piece of furniture and a piece of jewelry," and Mrs. Whitwell was left a similar bequest.

The contest is to be made, according to the attorneys, in order that all the children may share alike in the estate, and the ground will be made that Mrs. Howard was incapacitated from making a will.

Mrs. Howard was a member of the well-known Whiting family of Boston. She was formerly owner of an estate at Hillsborough now held by Charles Templeton Crocker and known as "Uplands."

WOMAN PLAYS HER PART IN THE NEW

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Two firemen were injured last night fighting a spectacular blaze, which brought forth a heroine in pretty Miss Margaret Knautz, daughter of Mrs. Paul Knautz of 874 Eddy street, as the flames swept through a three-story vacant flat building at 567-571 Eddy street, causing damage to the extent of $5000.

The injured firemen were William S. Meyers, hoseman of engine company 29, and A. C. Sullivan, hoseman of engine company 31.

The firemen were on the roof of the burning flat when it collapsed, Sullivan and Meyers crashing to the floor below. Meyers incurred a fracture of his right ankle and Sullivan three ribs. Both were taken to the Central Emergency Hospital.

Despite the pleas of her mother and the hundreds of spectators who were drawn to the blaze as a "three-alarm" was rung in, Miss Knautz led the firemen up through the smoke-filled flat next door to the burning structure and helped handle the hose with the helmeted fireman.

WOMAN SAYS ZEP RAIDS AIR ENLISTMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—One night a Zeppelin raid, next morning London offices crowded with enlisting men. That is the "damage" the raids are doing.

So says Miss Mildred Kearney, daughter of the late Dennis Kearney, a labor leader of this city, who has just returned from England, now her home, after three months in Paris.

She and her sister, Miss Ella Kearney, of New York, are here for six weeks, before sailing for Paris, where they will sing at soldiers' benefits and for the maimed soldiers themselves.

Londoners look on the raids as a show. I was told that if I would only stay over till October 2 I'd see another. A poor woman at Brixton put it well when she said: "We can't see any of the war here. How can they think we'll stomp inside when this is all of it we can see? A neighbor woman and her child had been killed by a bomb, all that this woman felt was a patience that she'd had, come over to her side of the street. 'I tolled her to come where she'd get good enough for it. If she had she wouldn't have been popped,' she said."

SIGN LANGUAGE GETS ABUSIVE IN COURT.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20.—A case that was entertaining to those who can understand the sign language was tried in the Circuit Court today.

It is the divorce suit of George E. Krelid vs. Effie J. Krelid. Both are deaf-mutes and their testimony was taken through an interpreter.

Charges and counter-charges were thick in the case, both asking for a degree of separation and settlement of property rights and the custody of an 8-year-old daughter.

The husband charged the wife with immorality and the wife charged the husband with cruel treatment. At times husband and wife, greatly excited, castigated each other with torrents of finger-mime abuse while the trial was in progress, and several of their deaf-mute witnesses all "talked" at once in the same way. The case was taken under advisement.

SCIENTIST TROUBLE OVER PHONE, SAVES MAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Returning from the shadowland after reviving from a stroke of apoplexy that kept him unconscious for more than an hour, Gilbert H. Cunningham, 62 years old, manager of the Builders' Supply Depot, staggered last night into a telephone at 88 Eighth street and started to cry for help.

A second paroxysm seized him, and Cunningham was unable to make himself intelligible.

Sensing something wrong, the girl telephone operator gathered from his confused message that he was in trouble. She communicated with the Central Emergency Hospital and an ambulance was sent speeding to the Builders' Supply Depot.

"Pimples broke out on the sides of my face, and later became more serious and itched terribly. The pimples were large, red, and sore, and they came to a white head. They came in blotches all over my face and one side of my neck. I was disfigured for the time being, and itched and burned."

"I tried all sorts of remedies but could get no results. Then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They afforded results in a few days, and after about one month I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. L. Shoop, 2338 King St., Denver, Colo., Jan. 30, 1916.

TECHNICAL RESIGNATIONS
U-BOATS AND FINANCE

IN accord with the provisions of the Clayton banking act, affecting interlocking directorates, William F. Fargo Nevada National Bank of San Francisco, and I. W. Helman Jr., president of Union Trust Company of San Francisco, have resigned as president and director respectively of the National Bank of Los Angeles. Their resignations were followed by the election of O. M. Souder to the presidency and E. S. Heller of San Francisco to the directorate.

The Helman has been long active in the south, where the Helman stands in testimony of their faith in the Los Angeles country. The present move merely indicates a technical obedience to the act.

N. C. P. ASSESSMENT.
The directors of Northern California Power Company have levied an assessment of $1 a share, delinquent November 28, sale day December 27. If all the stock pays this assessment will realize $100,000 and will make $700,000 more have been raised by assessments in about 10 years. Assessments of $2 each were levied September 30, 1914; January 31, 1915, and October 7, 1915.

As the net earnings of the company are running much above fixed charges, it is assumed that the money is required for meeting maturing obligations or past due debentures.

HUTCHINSON DIVIDEND.
Directors of the Hutchinson Sugar Plantation Company have declared an extra dividend of 30 cents a share in addition to the regular monthly dividend of 30 cents, both payable November 30 to stock of record October 31.

This is the fifth extra dividend of 20 cents Hutchinson has declared this year and makes, with the twelve regular monthly dividends, $4.40 a share that the company will pay to stockholders in 1916 or a total of $460,000 on the outstanding capital stock. In addition, it has invested $100,000 in high-grade bonds, which, with cash surplus, brings earnings up to more than $6 a share.

At 27, the stock pays 17 per cent on a $4.60 dividend, while earnings of $6 are at the rate of more than 22 per cent on the market price of the stock.

U-BOATS AND BONDS.
A saving element of comedy is sometimes injected into the most serious and tiresome court proceedings, heightened with a ballad without ribbilities pounds for order. This situation was afforded yesterday by the hearing of the application of the State and San Francisco Power Company for leave to issue $1,000,000 of first mortgage 5 per cent bonds and sell the same at 85 in Europe or America while the war is in progress.

Jackson concluded his testimony by pleading with the commission for a decision on the matter before October 25. He said: "The other German U-boat comes along and blows things up. It will be all off with selling these bonds at all, and that I might as well Commissioner Devlin, while disclaiming, on behalf of the commission, any power to govern the motion picture industry, declared that he had no objection to the company's plan to issue bonds at 85 in Europe or America while the war is in progress.

The railroad commission has issued a subpoena to the Southern Railway Company for authority to sell to the Southern Railway Company certain property at Playa del Rey, authorizing the Edison Company to discontinue all rates to the Beach company, which differ in any respect from the rates of the Edison Company on file with the railroad commission for electric light and power service. Certain consumers of the Pacific Electric Railway in Playa del Rey were ordered to pay the same rates as other consumers.

J. F. David and Nellie Druse, farmers near Bakerfield, have filed with the commission a complaint against the California Canal Company, asking that the commission compel the company to furnish water to them in the same quantity at the same rate and under the same conditions as to other users. The two complainants have 180 acres of land, which they claim is irrigated by fifty of under the present conditions.
